

A "Return" From the Grave

The reunion shown in the top picture brought delirious joy to the Raymond Fiore family of Masetown, Pa., but to curious townspeople it also brought a tantalizing puzzle. When 15-year-old Donald Fiore, pictured with his mother, walked into his home after a two-year absence, Masetown citizens began wondering whom they had buried in the grave shown in the lower picture. About a year ago Mrs. Fiore identified a youth shot to death during a "kissing game" at Olive Hill, Ky., as her runaway son Donald and brought the body back to Masetown for burial.

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., May 13.—(UP)—Three hundred and fifty San Quentin convicts went on another sit down "strike" in the prison workshops today in protest against shortening of their noon hour. The demonstration was peaceful.

Rush Plans To Rebuild Arena

JACKSON, Calif., May 13.—(UP)—Citizens of Jackson, undismayed that fire completely destroyed the new grandstand for the rodeo scheduled for June 5, today rushed plans to replace the bleachers in time for the rodeo.

Fire was discovered at 12:20 a. m. today but had gained too much headway to be extinguished. The structure was finished only a few days ago, with most of the material coming from the old racetrack stands at the state fair grounds. Loss was estimated at $5,000, of which $3,000 was covered by insurance.

An investigation was opened to determine if an incendiary had started the fire because of a civic argument regarding the moving of the county seat of Amador county from Jackson to Sutter Creek.

Frogs To Hop for Record Tomorrow

ANGELS CAMP, Calif., May 13.—(UP)—The ninth of the annual jumping frog jubilees to celebrate the contest made famous by Mark Twain's story of "The Jumping Frogs of Calaveras County" will open here tomorrow.

Civic leaders in this town of the mother lode country expect at least 40,000 to attend the two day session and to witness jumping contests. Frogs from practically every state in the union have entered, seeking to succeed to the championship last won by Emmet Dalton, a product of the Claremore, Okla., ranch of the late Will Rogers.

Emmett set a new jubilee record with a leap of 13 feet, five inches.

FATHER'S PRAYERS ANSWERED AS MISSING BOY IS LOCATED

SAN BERNARDINO, May 13.—(UP)—Sniffles were all today that troubled David Baumgarten, two years of age, who was lost for 30 hours in the snowline forest of the high San Bernardino mountains.

His father, one of 200 searchers, said: "I heard a cry. First I found the boy yesterday lying face down in snowy slush and pine needles. The child had wandered for hours and dropped exhausted four miles from the store he strayed away from Wednesday noon."

Dr. D. D. Dillingham of Big Bear Valley said the child was in good physical condition. David had scratches on his face and the sniffles. David strayed away from Gihson's store at Big Bear Park while his father, a wholesale grocery salesman, was inside making a call. Two army planes from March Field joined in the search. CCG youths and mountaineers made up posies. The Bear Valley school was dismissed to let 30 boys help.

U. S., Italian Missions Bombed

HUNDREDS OF CASUALTIES

HANKOW, May 13.—(UP)—The American Baptist and the Italian Catholic mission at Chengchow were bombed today by Japanese airplanes, causing heavy Chinese casualties and widespread damage, a message from Dr. Stanford Ayers of Atlanta, Ga., said.

"Chengchow was severely bombed at 11:50 a. m.," the message said. "There were hundreds of casualties, including five killed and eight wounded in the Baptist compound which was struck by eight bombs. Houses were badly damaged."

Foreigners Safe
"The Italian Catholic mission was hit by 12 bombs. Several were killed and wounded. All foreigners in Chengchow are safe."

Foreigners in the town which is north of Suchow on the Peiping-Tientsin railway include Grace Gibbard of London, Ont.; and Pearl Reid, Kingston, Ont.

The bombing was the fourth raid this week on foreign missions in China and the second time since the outbreak of the war that the American and Italian missions at Chengchow have been bombed.

100 Homes Ruined
Chinese reports said Japanese planes dropped 27 bombs on Chengchow.

SOLONS REFUSE TO LIFT ARMS EMBARGO

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—The Senate foreign relations committee today shelved a resolution to lift the embargo against shipments of arms to Spain after being warned by Secretary of State Cordell Hull that relaxation of the embargo would subject American neutrality to unnecessary risk.

The vote to postpone the resolution was 7-3.

Shimmy Queen Wins Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, May 13.—(UP)—Gilda Gray, wearing an elaborate silver poison ring given her by the late Rudolph Valentino, appeared briefly in court today and obtained a divorce from her third husband, Hector de Briceno.

The former shimmy queen charged her husband with desertion. The action was uncontested. "I heard from him only once since May 10, 1936, when he went to Venezuela," the dancer said. She was dressed in the height of Paris fashion.

At that time he said he couldn't come to California because he was serving his country.

De Briceno, a Venezuelan diplomatic representative, was "very morose and quite uncomfortable to be around," Miss Gray testified.

Heat Wave Hits San Joaquin

FRESNO, Cal., May 13.—(UP)—A heat wave which has been developing for several days, hit the San Joaquin valley with its full intensity today and may reach a peak of more than 90 degrees, the U. S. weather bureau reported.

W. E. Bonnett, U. S. meteorologist, said temperatures during the past two days have been substantially higher than the normal of 81 degrees for this time of year.

The present heat approximates that usually experienced the first part of July, he said.

The forecast was for temperatures ranging from 90 degrees upward will prevail in the valley over the weekend.

Juvenile Gang Investigated

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 13.—(UP)—Police delved into the secrets of juvenile "gangland" today as an increasing number of high school boys admitted burglaries and thefts with a value mounting into many hundreds of dollars.

Three 14-year-old boys and another 16-year-old have been jailed and confessed stealing at least eight automobiles and burglarizing 14 places. More arrests were expected today as the youths implicated more than 25 high school boys.

Most of the boys refused to give correct information to officers. Only a small portion of loot had been recovered.

Four girls are being sought as possible accomplices to the youths.

Pope Plans Nazi Attack

VATICAN CITY, May 13.—(UP)—Pope Pius is preparing a vigorous attack against the German Nazi attitude toward the Roman Catholic Church, trustworthy Catholic quarters asserted today.

It was said that the Pope intended to make the attack in the near future, at what he considered an opportune moment.

Await Speech
Informants believed that the Pope might speak on the German question tomorrow. This was purely speculative, however, and it was recalled that Premier Benito Mussolini was scheduled to make an important speech on foreign affairs at Genoa tomorrow.

Pope Pius has shown plainly his displeasure at the failure of Adolf Hitler to make the traditional visit to the Vatican during his stay at Rome as the guest of Mussolini. It is regarded as a matter of courtesy.

FDR SEEKS WAYS TO HALT PRICE BOOSTS

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—President Roosevelt said today he was seeking methods to prevent over-accumulation of inventories and huge price increases which he characterized as major factors in bringing on the present economic recession.

The President said that no effective plan to meet the situation has yet been developed but he was hopeful that an approach to the problem might be evolved from the anti-monopoly study which he has recommended to Congress.

No Proposal
He said that the NRA had been an honest experiment which sought to deal with this problem.

However, he made plain that he

Slate Inquest In Fatal Beating

PRESCOTT, Ariz., May 13.—(UP)—An inquest was scheduled today into the fatal beating of Marcus Jay Lawrence, 35, wealthy former resident of Washington, D. C., for whose death Ernesto Lira, well-known boxing manager and concert accordionist, was charged with first-degree murder.

Lira, held in jail without bond, was to be taken into justice court today for fixing of a date for preliminary hearing. It was expected the hearing would be set for early next week.

Lawrence, owner of a large cattle ranch near here, died Wednesday of a beating which County Attorney Charles Ewing said was suffered in a fight with Lira over Mrs. Odessa Webb, with whom the one-time manager of Light Heavyweight Champion John Henry Lewis had been living.

Fire Destroys Ship's Cargo

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—(UP)—Fire broke out in the hold of the Dollar Liner President Polk at pier 42 today and destroyed large cargoes of cotton and paper before it was brought under control by city firemen, fireboats and longshoremen.

Capt. L. H. Westdahl, marine superintendent of the Dollar Line, estimated cargo damage at $35,000. Damage to the vessel which was scheduled for a round-the-world cruise, was slight.

The fire was discovered by Harry Phillips, a night watchman. Longshoremen who were loading cargo attempted to extinguish the flames but were driven on deck by the heavy smoke. Two alarms were sounded and two fireboats were summoned alongside the liner.

FDR Seeks Funds For Refugees

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today asked Congress to appropriate $72,500 for the balance of the 1938 fiscal year, to aid in the move to care for political refugees from Germany, Austria and other countries.

He submitted a supplemental estimate for the department of state, to be provided in the second deficiency bill.

A letter from Acting Budget Director Daniel W. Bell pointed out that more than 30 countries had signified cooperation in the proposal to give haven to political emigres.

The funds proposed by the President would be used for personal services, communication, travel, office rent and other expenses.

SENATORS APPROVE HUGE NAVY MEASURE

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—The senate today passed and sent to President Roosevelt the $1,156,000 naval expansion program designed to give the United States the most powerful navy in its history.

Final approval was given the bill after the neutrality bloc attacked a provision which would give Mr. Roosevelt discretion to determine whether the United States should build 45,000-ton dreadnaughts—the largest in naval history.

Opponents of the provision contended that construction of the huge battleships would place the United States in the leadership of a world armament race that may precipitate a major conflict.

The bill contains authorization for construction of battleships totaling 105,000 tons, sufficient for three 35,000 ton vessels. However,

Born in Orange, Mrs. Warren had resided in Orange county all her life, and 24 years in this city. In addition to the husband, she is survived by one son, Robert Warren, and a daughter, Mary Jean Warren, both of Santa Ana, a sister, Mrs. Lillian Benjamin of Los Angeles, and a niece, Elizabeth Dunbar, Santa Ana.

Funeral services will be arranged at the Smith and Tutthill funeral home. The rites will be in charge of the Rev. Albert E. Kelly, and burial will be in Fairhaven cemetery.

Senate Gets Spend Bill

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's $3,154,425,000 recovery bill went to the senate today carrying provisions for $100,000,000 more than when it entered the house.

The house passed the measure yesterday after a session lasting more than nine hours. The final vote, 328 to 70, was not taken until after 8 p. m.

Earmark Millions
The extra money in the bill does not involve additional appropriations but will come from another part of the general $5,941,425,000 pump priming program. An amendment adopted on the floor authorized the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to lend $100,000,000 to the Rural Electrification Administration. This was the nearest approach to earmarking accomplished by the house despite Republican attempts to specify expenditures.

THOMPSON RETIRES FROM WELFARE POST

Bearing out recent advance reports in The Register, the retirement of R. M. Thompson from the county welfare department, where he has been head of the property division, was made known today by Jack W. Snow, welfare director.

Thompson returned today from vacation long enough to "check out" of the department. At the same time, Director Snow announced a number of transfers of employees within the department, to meet changed demands of the work.

Many Changes
This, said Snow, was in line with his department's policy of seeking the greatest possible efficiency at the lowest possible cost. Following the liberalization of social security laws last year, there was a large influx of new cases.

Sacramento Wins Jubilee Fight

SACRAMENTO, May 13.—(UP)—Sacramento got its pony express back again today after arguing successfully against permitting newsreels to film commemorative festivities in San Francisco, where no ponies ever ran except on the racetracks.

The returning of the pony express May 17 from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento will be just the same as in the early frontier days—except that a United Airlines transport will carry the mail between the cities. To be exact, the ponies will hardly work up a sweat galloping from the postoffice to airport in St. Joseph and vice-versa in Sacramento.

The big argument arose when United Airlines declared that repairs at the municipal airport here would make it impossible to land a big plane and the flight would end in San Francisco.

Law Popular In State Prisons

SACRAMENTO, May 13.—(UP)—Law books are first on the list of reading preferences expressed by California's convicts, attaches of the state library revealed today.

Possibly with a hope of finding a legal loophole, prisoners from San Quentin and Folsom monthly direct an average of 50 requests for legal volumes to the library's law section. Reports on habeas corpus proceedings are in greatest demand.

No fiction is contained in the state library, but both prisons maintain their own libraries and these include certain types of fiction. No books pertaining to criminology or scientific works that might point the way to commission of "the perfect crime" are available from any source.

Policeman Kills Wife, Children

NEW YORK, May 13.—(UP)—Anthony Modleski, 36-year-old traffic policeman on sick leave, shot and killed his wife and two of their three sons, critically wounded the other and then killed himself today.

Evidence found in the Modleski apartment in Brooklyn indicated that the patrolman fired on his family with his service revolver while they slept. The weapon, with all but one of its six cartridges exploded, was found beside the officer.

Deputy Chief Inspector John J. Gallagher said Modleski had been suffering from a nervous disorder.

Lost In Woods

Asserted victim of "strong-arm" members of a Southern California teamsters union which reportedly hopes to force renewal of contracts with Orange county citrus packing houses, Raymond Salcido, truck operator for the Santiago Orange Growers association, Orange, was attacked late yesterday afternoon and his truck ditched. It was feared by peace officers this may be the beginning of a labor war in this county.

Contracts with the packing houses of the county will expire Tuesday, officials reported.

Fruit Is Dumped

According to Salcido's report to sheriff's officers and to packing officials, he was driving north on Tustin avenue about 4 p. m. yesterday and was operating a truck and trailer loaded with boxed fruit. When two Americans in another truck drove along side of his truck and forced him into the ditch near First street, the fruit was spilled over the ground.

Another truck operator behind Salcido reported an attempt had been made to run him into the ditch, too, but he escaped. Sheriff's officers also reported a similar incident occurred near Oceanside yesterday.

EAGLE SCOUTS WILL BE GIVEN AWARDS

Thirteen Eagle Scouts, the largest number decorated at one ceremony in recent Scout history of Orange county, will receive their badges at the county-wide Court of Honor May 20. This group of Eagle Scouts will have a special thrill from the occasion, for their badges will come from the hand of the governor of California.

Justice Kenneth E. Morrison, of Santa Ana, who is chairman in charge of the Court of Honor arrangements, announced today that Governor Frank P. Merriam will be present, to present the Eagle badges, the ceremony being scheduled at 7:30 in Willard junior high school auditorium, Santa Ana.

W. O. Hart, Orange editor, will present four Scouts with quilts for proficiency in journalism, as a part of the ceremonial. Fred Dukes, of Garden Grove, regional commander of the American Legion, will present nine Scouts with life Scout badges. The Rev. David I. Brahm, of Laguna Beach, will give invocation.

Actor Settles Alienation Suit

NEW YORK, May 13.—(UP)—Eddie Brandt has dropped his $250,000 alienation of affections suit against screen actor Herbert Marshall for a cash consideration, it was reported today.

Friends of Brandt, who sings in an act known as the Rhythm Boys, said they did not know the amount. Brandt charged Marshall with stealing away his divorced wife, Lee Russell Brandt, sister of actress Rosalind Russell.

PROFITABLE PURCHASE

REDONDO BEACH, Calif., May 13.—(UP)—Mrs. Al Protisch, wife of a local jeweler, had her $350 diamond ring back today, and the man who bought it from a schoolboy for 10 cents had $150. The boy had found the ring and sold it. The purchaser took it to the nearest jeweler, who recognized it as his wife's ring. The jeweler paid $150 reward.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., May 13.—(UP)—Alfred Wadatz was presented at an employee meeting with a safety certificate as an award for never having an accident as the driver of the St. Joseph Lead Co. Ten minutes later he caught his left arm under an elevator. The arm was amputated at a hospital.

SALVATION ARMY MAJOR IN ANSWER TO LAYTON CHARGES

Major John Naton, head of the local Salvation Army corps, today issued a formal statement, following threats by several prominent Santa Ana citizens that they would bring pressure to bear to oust the local Salvation Army from the Community Chest if alleged practices of high state Army authorities failed to lend more cooperation for the benefit of Santa Ana.

The complaint of the local citizens question as regards the handling of the local finances of the Salvation Army. Major Naton said, "A strict system of bookkeeping is kept and two treasurers sign checks in addition to the signature of the local commanding officer."

that visiting sovereigns, whatever their religion, shall visit the Pope. Shows Displeasure. The Pope showed his displeasure in several ways. He left the Vatican for Castel Gandolfo two days before Hitler's arrival in Rome because Hitler had not asked to see him. He publicly condemned the display of German Nazi swastika banners in Rome and he closed the Vatican museum for the duration of Hitler's stay. It was reopened a few hours after he left—and when a party of Germans wearing swastika badges sought admittance they were barred. The Pope, it was said, ardently desired to prevent Germany from going the way of Russia, Spain and Mexico and that this desire impelled him to make a decision to unburden his heart on the German problem before long.

350 Convicts Go On Strike

The shoe shop and tailoring department, however, were idle. The prisoners made their first demonstration against the new rules yesterday when 60 convict workmen staged a four-hour sitdown in the tailor, barber and shoe shops. Today most of the "strikers" went to the office of Capt. Ralph New to resubmit their protest against shortening of the prisoners' leisure time in the yard during the lunch period.

Warden Court Smith explained the new regulations:

New Regulations

"We used to unlock the cells at 6:30 in the morning at this time of the year. During the past couple of years we unlocked at 7 a. m. all year around. But now the guards are on an 8-hour day, so we don't unlock until 8 a. m. Thus in order to keep our work production up, we had to shorten the noon hour. "Formerly the men were allowed a few minutes in the yard for recreation before lunch. Now they are marched directly from the work shops to the mess hall, and directly back to work. That is what they object to.

"We may be able to adjust this. But now they have more recreation time here than they ever had before."

chow. They indicated that all except eight dropped within the mission compounds. They said more than 100 Chinese homes were demolished when bombs hit civilian areas.

Chinese sources said the Japanese apparently concentrated on the missions after reiterating the Japanese request to all foreigners to evacuate the North China war zones.

JAPANESE FORCES PREDICT VICTORY

SHANGHAI, May 13.—(UP)—Japanese military authorities predicted today that their forces, blasting a path through one of China's strongest armies, would cut the Lunghai railroad within 24 hours.

The Japanese were expected to attempt a drive through the heavily fortified line at Hsinanchen, a few miles south of Tancheng, on the southeastern Shantung Province front.

Claim Victories

A spokesman for the Japanese asserted that two entire divisions of Chinese troops, trapped west of Tancheng, were slowly being wiped out by aerial and artillery bombardments. Another 10,000 Chinese troops in the area, southwest of Tancheng, were said to have suffered "devastating casualties" in repeated Japanese air raids.

Dozens of squadrons of Japanese planes, composed of 30 each, blasted Chinese communications and munitions dump along most of the eastern sections of the Lunghai road.

Chinese reports said that Su-chow, headquarters of Gen. Li

Tsung-Jen, the Japanese divisional commander, was heavily bombed six times. The city is at the junction of the vital Lunghai and Tientsin-Pukow railroads. The Chinese said the bombs were so heavy that they blasted holes in the streets 80 feet wide and 30 feet deep.

Chinese dispatches described violent fighting along a 100 mile front in Southern Shantung. They said that the tide of battle swings back and forth and both sides suffered enormous casualties.

by the Community Chest until this monthly financial statement is submitted to the Chest by the Army.

"The only point at issue in the controversy which has been going on for a long time, even before I came to Santa Ana, is between the advisory board and Salvation Army headquarters in San Francisco, and concerns the operation here of the industrial store by the Long Beach industrial department. The contention of the advisory board is and always has been that this store should be run by the local Salvation Army corps and the profit used to help take care of the local shelter and transient relief, instead of being run by the Long Beach department. In regard to this, I am awaiting word from my superior officers."

Boards Resign

Both the last advisory board and the one before that have resigned in protest, Layton said. Mrs. A. G. Flagg, president of the last board, said today her board would issue a formal statement tomorrow. In a statement to Layton, she gave approval of his statements regarding the asserted difficulties between citizens and state Army officials. "I am very much concerned over the fact the advisory board found it necessary to resign en masse in protest," Layton said. "No effort has been made to meet their requests for cooperation, to restore the resigned board or to select a new board."

"Ex-board members have agreed with me that the clothing and other materials gathered here should be handled and processed here and distributed here," he continued. "When the store was operated here for two or three years, it was successful, the clothing being given to Orange county needy persons and waste materials such as paper, rags and old iron sold, the income maintaining the shelter nicely."

had no proposal in mind for reviving NRA under any new form.

Mr. Roosevelt offered his economic comment in a general discussion of the unemployment situation. He presented figures submitted by John D. Biggers, head of the unemployment crisis.

The President said the New Deal's original spending program did not fail but observed that certain economic and business factors run away with the ball.

Cites Figures

Mr. Roosevelt said the Biggers report showed 5,800,000 persons totally unemployed, 2,000,000 unemployed except for emergency work, and 2,800,000 partially unemployed.

He noted that the report revealed that as the principal breadwinner of the family became jobless, others in the family sought to augment their income, thus adding to the rolls of available workers.

asked them what was the matter and they said "Nothing, but there will be if you don't stop." As we approached First street, side by side, a sedan pulled onto Tustin avenue and the truck then forced me into the ditch. The trailer was overturned, dumping all of the oranges."

When Salcido refused to stop before the overturning of his trailer, he said the men cursed him lustily and shouted at him. Officials of the Santiago packing house, who obtained Salcido's story when Deputy Sheriffs G. F. McKelvey and James Musick began an investigation, said Salcido has been employed by them for the past 12 to 15 years. Sheriff's officers said the truck occupied by the asserted assailants was a grey, flat-bed truck operated by Diesel motor. After the Santiago truck was ditched, the asserted assailants sped away in their own truck. Salcido said he previously had been threatened several times.

C. I. O. REFUSED ENTRANCE TO MEETING

Met at the door of the Modern Woodmen of America hall, members of the Orange County Pacific Gas Workers' Union last night flatly refused to permit five members of the C. I. O. to enter their meeting to make a speech to members.

The five men had distributed bulletins among the members as they entered the hall, and had asked permission to enter the meeting and present a C. I. O. address. On a motion from the floor, the entire body of 90 members of the union voted unanimously to refuse the requests of the C. I. O. members. Opinion was expressed by President John H. Fox that the Workers' union could better achieve its aim by remaining an independent union.

Following the expression against the C. I. O. representatives, the group voted to hold election of officers at the next regular meeting, May 26.

Retirement of Thompson leaves Spencer Collins and Walter Robb as remaining members of the property division, and Snow has not indicated whether there will be a change of classification of either. Thompson, while having charge of the department, was not officially classified as such.

Slayer Is Found Sane By Court

SAN DIEGO, May 13.—(UP)—Otto F. Disbrow, 44, must spend the remainder of his life in San Quentin prison, without hope of parole, for the $20, hitch-hike slaying of Kenneth Wakeford, 24.

Superior Judge Frank Macomber found Disbrow sane late yesterday despite the fact he had been confined in insane hospitals on two occasions.

"Disbrow may be unbalanced mentally but his action in killing Wakeford and hiding his body under a culvert were the actions of a man who knew right from wrong," Judge Macomber said in passing sentence.

tion, introduced by Sen. Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D., was 17 to 1. The foreign relations committee acted quickly after Hull, on request of Committee Chairman Key Pittman, submitted a memorandum advising against approval of the resolution.

Follows Conference

Hull drafted the memorandum after conferences with President Roosevelt.

The committee action apparently ended all possibility of any material revision of American neutrality policies during this session of Congress.

Pointing out that as drafted the Nye resolution would lift the arms embargo as it affected one faction in the Spanish civil war while maintaining its effectiveness against the other, Hull strongly opposed adoption of the measure.

Danger Exists

Even if it applied to both belligerents in the Spanish struggle, he said, "its enactment still would subject us to unnecessary risks we have so far avoided."

He asserted that the "original danger" in the Spanish situation still exists.

LIONS CLUB HEADS LISTED IN REPORT

Recommendations of the nominating committee for officers and new directors of the Santa Ana Lions club for the coming year were read by Carson Smith, head of the committee at the regular meeting of the club at the Masonic Temple yesterday. Eighteen names will be included on the ballot to be voted on June 2.

Following are the recommendations of the committee: President, Don Jerome and E. M. Sundquist; first vice president, Bob Farrar and Ernie Spencer; second vice president, A. G. Green and Ben Manker; third vice president, Lew Blodgett and Charles Swanner; secretary, John Henderson, treasurer, Jon McCarthy; lion tamer, George Tobias and Wilbur Shook; tail twister, Wallace Craney and Burr Shafer.

Four on Ballot
Four names were placed on the ballot which calls for the election of two new members of the board of directors. Names submitted were: Rodney Bacon, W. K. Hill, James Utt, and E. Wagner. Following the business session, the club heard an address by Edward H. Holt, author of "Death Valley Days" and other poems. R. Hockaday was program chairman for the day and introduced Kathryn Stockton and Joann Hockaday who sang several solos and a duet. They were accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong.

OVER THE TRANSOM

Saw Rod Bacon wearing a new straw hat drinking orange juice this morning at the Santa Ana cafe.... A. F. Granas wearing a new straw hat and walking up North Main street.... Ike Akins, barber, cutting Neil E. Adams' hair, having done so every three weeks for 17 years.... Cecil Marks, getting ready to entertain several thousand ranchers at Farm Bureau picnic Saturday.... The Rev. O. Scott McFarland paying fines of Dr. Robert Burns McAulay (also Presbyterian) at Orange Rotary club.

Frank Nuclein, member of the Izaak Walton league Santa Ana-Orange chapter Izaak Walton, remarks that once he wished to stand out from the crowd—now he is satisfied to lie down in the shade, it is so much more pleasant.

Capt. H. C. Meehan and K. W. Coltrane, Orange policeman, heard about a trout in Big Bear lake 42 inches long. Common size for that lake, they say. Reliable witnesses testify that fish of this size recently went over Big Bear dam which is still overflowing, were dipped out of Bear creek and put back in the lake. Both officers enjoyed a day's fishing in Bear creek this week.

Beside being observed as straw hat week, this eventful week is also designated as insurance week, and candy week. It contains a total eclipse of the moon (tonight), the only Friday 13th of the year, and pay day. Confederate Memorial day was observed Tuesday, Mother's day Sunday, while tomorrow marks the anniversary of the day when the Constitution was drawn up in 1784.

It seems as though he just can't get out of the habit. We mean Dr. Flaherty, formerly secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau and now organization director in the 11 western states for the American Farm Bureau federation, who is in town at present and is assisting Secretary Cecil Marks in lining up new members for the local bureau.

Frank Cagle, nonchalant deputy county jail and deputy sheriff, isn't worried "one bit" because today is Friday the 13th. He said so today as he donned his officer's cap bearing badge No. 13. To Officer Cagle, ladders and black cats are just ladders and black cats, any day of the year.

A. B. Berry, Santa Ana newspaperman, enjoys long vacations—at least in his own mind. Each year when the vacation schedule for employees of The Register newsroom is posted, Berry's attention is attracted. If there are only two names listed on the schedule opposite two of 19 dates, Berry always opines things by writing his name opposite the 17 remaining blank spaces.

MURPHY—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Jane Cowlin Murphy, who passed away at her home, 1508 W. Third street, May 11, 1938, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Brown and Wagner Colonial chapel, Rev. C. D. Hicks officiating. Interment in Santa Ana cemetery.

ALCALA—Funeral services for Santiago Alcala, aged 65 years of Santa Monica, who passed away in Santa Ana May 11, 1938, were held from the Winbiger Mortuary chapel, 609 No. Main street, this afternoon, May 12, at 2 p. m. Interment in Santa Ana cemetery.

"SILVER SADDLES" ONE NEW THEME FOR S. A. HORSE SHOW

A fortune in silver, representing an outlay of at least $25,000, will be exhibited both in the parade and at the second annual Orange County Horse Show, to be held at the Municipal Bowl, May 21 and 22, as seven riders appear in complete silver saddle outfits.

One complete outfit alone, made up of saddle, chaps, bridle, vest, martingale, gloves, hat-band, and spurs, is valued at $2300.

In addition to the cost of the silver, much of it hand-carved and inlaid with gold and precious gems, the leather of the saddles is hand-wrought.

Johnny Wagner, of Placentia, will exhibit three complete outfits. Other riders who will appear in gleaming silver are: Mrs. Clyde Deardorff, Mrs. Olive McClure, Mrs. James Irvine, C. Hart Chesley, Dan Williams and A. D. Moody.

Two silver saddles and trappings are now on display in local store windows and others are to be placed on exhibition during the coming week.

Record Attendance
At a meeting of all committee heads last night at the Horse Show offices, 600 North Main street, it was announced that the public address system for the show would be furnished by the Associated Oil company with Charles Levering, United Motors technician, in charge of operations. General reports of the committee heads indicated a record attendance at this year's show.

Johnston Is Named By District Court
Fred D. Johnston, local attorney, today announced his appointment by the United States District court to the office of Conciliation Commissioner for Orange county.

Attorney George E. Bradley, retiring commissioner, has held the office during the last two years. He requested that he be relieved of the appointment at the beginning of the next yearly term on May 16, 1938. Johnston's duties will commence on Monday, May 16, and proceeds under Section 75 of the Bankruptcy Act will thereafter be conducted by him at his office in the First National Bank Building, Santa Ana.

Father of S. A. Woman Is Dead
Mrs. Juanita Cozad, past president of the V.F.W., auxiliary of Santa Ana, today sent news of the death of her father, George W. Gilbert, 80, Stillwater, Okla., who died early yesterday of an illness that developed after breaking his hip a month ago.

Mrs. Cozad has been in Oklahoma for the past month taking care of her father. A daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Lambert, of South Flower street, and several other relatives in Southern California are among survivors. Mrs. Cozad is the wife of Paul Cozad, Santa Ana police officer.

Court Notes
Mrs. Connie Kunkel charged non-support in a divorce suit on file today in superior court against Lester R. Kunkel. They wed in Yuma in 1935.

Inventory and appraisement of the estate left by the late Katherine Everett, who died February 8, was filed in superior court today, showing a valuation of $957, represented mostly by Los Angeles county real estate.

Fire Insurance Firm In Appeal

The United States Fire Insurance company today filed an appeal in superior court from the $600 damage award granted recently by Justice Kenneth E. Morrison to Helen V. K. Aubin, of Santa Ana, who complained of alleged dilatory and evasive tactics of the insurance company in compensating her for a fire loss.

Mrs. Aubin charged that the insurance company elected to repair the damages, but only did odd jobs at various times over a period extending up to April 30, 1937, without ever finishing the work, though she obtained frequent promises from the agent and from the contractor that the work would be done, she said.

OSBORNE RECEIVES 11TH TRANSFUSION

Charles Osborne, 23, Placentia, who was injured several weeks ago in an alleged fist fight at Anaheim city park, received his 11th blood transfusion yesterday at Orange county hospital.

Although improved, Osborne, who lost his right eye in the alleged fight, began bleeding again yesterday. Osborne's condition became grave because he is a hemophilia victim and his blood failed to clot following the injury.

Douglas Strickland, 19, Fullerton, who admitted striking Osborne with his fist, was freed on felonious assault charges after testimony showed Osborne struck the first blow during a drinking party at the park.

CHILDREN SOUGHT AS FIRE IS FEARED
Children who have been emulating Snow White and the seven dwarfs of Walt Disney screen cartoon fame, were being sought today by Santa Ana police.

R. A. Emerson, manager of the Santa Ana Lumber company yard at Fourth and Artesia, told police yesterday afternoon, he fears the children, who have been regularly climbing the lumber yard fence and playing inside during the evening hours, might set the place on fire, or get injured. He said the children have been using the company lumber to build play sheds and houses and have built fires of pieces of lumber in the course of their play. Officer Richard M. Bradley was assigned to investigate the complaint.

First and only candidate thus far in the field, Howard C. Cameron, well-known Santa Ana attorney, today announced his candidacy for election as justice of the peace in Santa Ana township. College Musicians
To Play at Fete

Two musical units from Loyola University that will aggregate 70 musicians will furnish entertainment at the old-fashioned barbecue and picnic to be held by the Orange County American Legion, May 29, at Sycamore Grove camp ground in Santa Ana canyon.

Included in the group will be the Swing Band and the regular university band.

The picnic is being staged as a benefit for the Relief Committee treasury that was depleted during the March 3 flood when more than 500 members assisted in rescue and relief work. Judge Frank Drumm will be master of ceremonies.

MEASLES AND SMALLPOX CASES REPORTED IN COUNTY AREAS

A flurry of measles in certain sections of the county, centering in the Garden Grove-Bolsa and Santa Ana-Diamond areas, was reported today by Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, who estimated that there are at present about 80 cases in the county.

At the same time, warnings were developed following the arrival of a young man who is a guest at the Chambers home.

A total of 453 cases of measles have been reported officially to the health department this year, 95 of them since May 1, Dr. Sutherland stated. That there may be others unofficially reports was indicated by the fact that, while the health department records show only 9 cases officially reported from Bolsa, 24 students of Bolsa school were reported absent Wednesday on account of measles.

Work at School
School children will be vaccinated at the Seal Beach schools by a physician from the county health board on Monday—in all cases where parents request it. Seal Beach police said the one case developed following the arrival of a young man who is a guest at the Chambers home.

PROGRAM COMPLETED FOR RED CROSS UNITS IN ORANGE FETE

Program for the International Good Will Day celebration of Junior Red Cross units of the county to be held at the Orange Women's club at noon tomorrow was announced today by Mrs. Laura R. Warren, executive secretary of the Orange county council, American Red Cross.

Reports Prepared
Immediately after the luncheon, patriotic songs by the entire group will be sung with the Brea band supplying instrumental music. Herbert Sturges will report on the Junior Red Cross convention.

Master of ceremonies for the program will be Robert King, from the Bradford avenue school, Placentia. The program will open with the rendition of national anthems of various nations.

Music and Dancing
Music, dancing and a play by representative high schools throughout the county concludes the program. Schools included in the program are: Center street school, Orange; Grammar school, Brea; Washington school, Anaheim; Bradford avenue school, Placentia; Hoover school, Santa Ana; Roosevelt school, Santa Ana; Killdeer school, Orange; Intermediate school, Orange; Fremont school, Santa Ana; Santa Ana high school, and Cypress school, Orange.

An international correspondence exhibit will be shown by Fullerton schools.

SCOTT GIVES TALK ON DICTATORSHIPS

With Dr. C. J. Ruley, president of El Camino Toastmasters club, again at the helm, the club met last night at Daniger's for its weekly speaking contest, won by Ferris Scott. E. M. Sundquist won second honors in the competition.

Dr. Ruley, who has been visiting in the middle west for several weeks, announced the chartering of a Toastmasters club at El Centro where Malcolm Macurda, former El Camino member, organized it. Macurda, telephone company employee, was transferred recently to El Centro.

Several El Camino members last night expressed a desire to attend the El Centro club's charter night, May 21, as a good-will gesture to Macurda.

Traces "New Trend"
Last night, Leon Lauderbach was toastmaster. Speakers included Scott on "The Paths that Led to Dictatorship," a parallel account of the lives of Hitler and Mussolini, and Sundquist, on "Politics, Old and New," a tracing of the trend toward fascist and communistic dictatorships and some of the symptoms.

Other speakers were R. N. Hockaday on "Safety First," plea for careful driving; John Colwell on "Latrodectus Mactans," which in spite of its high-sounding title, was a talk on the life and habits of the black widow spider; John Maxwell, on "The Solid South," presentment a southerner's explanation of why the south is solidly Democratic, and Ted MacBird, on "A Modern Vocational Training for Modern Youth," in which he showed need for methods which would permit youth to choose a vocation intelligently. Phil Hood was general critic.

ALL FARM HEADS URGED TO UNITE

Urging a unification of all farm groups to meet existing economic pressure groups, S. G. Rubinow, director of publicity of the California Farm Bureau federation, spoke to 200 members of the Foothill Farm center last night at the Villa Park social hall.

So long as each economic pressure group clamors for its own advantages, the farm bureau must do the same, declared Rubinow. It does not matter, he stated, how much agriculture is organized in cooperative groups, pressure must be met with pressure, and this pressure can be effected only by welding into one agricultural group all agricultural interests including livestock, sheep, cotton, wheat, citrus and all other kinds of growers.

Congress listens only to numbers, said Rubinow. The farm bureau is becoming a strong militant organization and is heading in the right direction, declared the speaker as he told of instances where economic groups had brought pressure to obtain bonuses, higher railroad, trucking or other rates.

The problem of agriculture, Rubinow pointed out, is to allow farmers to stay on the farms they are farming and to make a fair return for their work. Of the utmost importance is what can be done for the farmer right now, he declared, and not what is the future of agriculture. It is difficult, he said for any group no matter how efficiently they may be organized for cooperative marketing and distribution to market fruit at a profit so long as one third of the consumers are on a starvation basis.

"All subsidies are a raid on the public treasury, but if the general purchasing power is stimulated this is justified," he said.

"Government ownership of railroads may be coming, and 75 percent of all the carrier systems now are mortgaged so as to be legally owned by the government. Group medical care at $2 per month per member is on the way for farm bureau members to the great benefit of individuals and the medical profession; the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. will soon be amalgamated; labor is in the saddle whether you like it or not with millions of members in unions."

A feature of the meeting was a talk by R. D. Flaherty, director of organization work for the American Farm Bureau for 11 western states, who stated that in a tour of the western states he had found that there is no longer room in the United States for pure individualism in agricultural pursuits. He urged closer organization of farm interests, pointing out that already industry and labor are closely organized.

L. A. Borts gave a resume of a recent issue of the Farm Bureau magazine where the state of county education was discussed. H. R. Tritt gave a report of a directors meeting where overestimation of citrus crops was disapproved. H. H. Gardner announced the appointment of J. A. Porter as head of the Farm Bureau citrus committee. Porter is a member of the Foothill center.

M. J. Wolfe, assistant farm advisor gave a comprehensive talk on soil conservation and explained how Orange county ranchers may comply with regulations to obtain credit units for a subsidy for soil building. R. W. Hull announced the Farm Bureau picnic Saturday. Miss Frances Liles announced a farm bureau camp for women at Oak Glen June 26-30. Dinner was served under the direction of Mrs. R. S. Prest.

FARM CONFERENCE SET FOR JUNE 23

R. D. Flaherty, organization director of the western region of American Farm Bureau federation, today announced that the western regional conference of that organization will be held at Yellowstone park, June 23 to 25, inclusive.

Several farmers of Orange county are expected to attend the conference as a part of their summer vacation. Among speakers who will be featured on the program the first day will be Governor Leslie Miller of Wyoming; Hon. James Pope, senator from Idaho; George Farrell, A.A.A.; John C. Page, commissioner of reclamation; W. W. McLaughlin, division of irrigation; U. S. department of agriculture; Mrs. W. H. Ahart, president of Associated Women A.F.B.F.; and a forest service representative.

The second day's program, under the topic "Building Farm Bureau," will be divided into sub-topics stressing community organization, with leaders from the western states participating.

The banquet the second night will be presided over by Director A. E. Bowman, Wyoming extension service, and the speakers will be Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming and Earl C. Smith, vice president of the American Farm Bureau federation. Flaherty, who has been spending a few days with his family in Santa Ana, is expected to be present at the Farm Bureau picnic at Irvine park on Saturday, leaving the following day for Arizona, where he will continue his work and travel through other western states until the regional conference.

Josie Ojeda, Gomercinda Reynoso, Mary Graupensperger, Bonnie Seymour, and Ruth Kadowald were the new baseball captains elected in Miss Anderson's eighth grade block V. P. E. class.

In Mrs. M. D. Scott's seventh grade block I class captains elected were Doris Erwin, Helen Taylor, Holly Bice, and Jean Hendrie. A tournament will be held in Mrs. Scott's two classes, but up to date the prize has not been announced.

A Federal Music Project program, prepared by Miss Hazel L. Hesslein, was presented to the student body Tuesday in the Willard auditorium. According to Miss Hesslein, the aim of music education in the schools is to teach appreciation and understanding of good music.

"Festival Overture," "Shepherd's Dance," "Pizzicato," "Ballet Music" from Roumrosunand, and "Sunnyland Overture" were the five selections played by the Willard Orchestra for the Women's Auxiliary at the American Legion Hall Thursday, May 5, according to Herbert Michel, director.

String and brass quarters are to be featured with special numbers in the combined band-orchestra concert in the Willard Auditorium Thursday, June 2, when the best solos of the ninth grade graduating class will be selected. No admission will be charged.

Lathrop presented an exchange assembly, sponsored by Herbert Michel and Arthur Nisewanger last Friday to the Willard eighth graders in the auditorium.

The combined bands of Lathrop and Willard, consisting of 70 students, directed by Dan Stover and Herbert Michel, presented four numbers. The Lathrop Boys' Glee Club, also directed by Stover, sang three songs. Mary McDougal, Beverly Short, and Betty Haines, who comprise the Lathrop Girls Trio, gave two numbers. Charmon Carlson, who will take the feminine lead in the Lathrop operetta to be given soon, concluded the program with two vocal solos.

The initiation for eight new members of the Girls Athletic Club was held in a cabin at Newport Beach yesterday afternoon. Miss Wyllys Anderson, adviser, announced today. Melva Burke, one of the new members, was chairman of the refreshment committee and planned the menu for a wienie bake. Elaine Reed, Melva Burke, Clea Stone, Margaret Lockett, Maxine Hilliard, Patricia Paul, Dorothy Brush and Elizabeth Brown are new members. These girls also helped Melva serve the supper.

Virginia Gray, Marguerite Woods, Jane Doyle, William Nelson and Billy Witt will take the lead in the current operetta "Ship boy" to be presented in the Willard auditorium, May 14 and 15, by the combined glee clubs, directed by Miss Esther Jean Davis, Miss Helen Glancy, Miss Wyllys Anderson and Herbert Michel.

The supporting cast includes Lois Brower, Helen Garnett and Betty Starkey as three girls aboard an Hawaiian bound steamer, and their two spinster friends Mary Helen Peddy and Edna Tate. A theatrical troupe is also aboard led by June Allen and Betty Humphry. The rest of the cast includes: Joanne Hockaday, Patsy Shepherd, Lola Marie Harmon, Roga Chaires, Anna Beauchamp, Ruth Pichardt, Carolyn Harvey, Almes Delany, Marilyn Foote, Susan McPherson, Betty Passwater, Eloise Romero, Celia Sifuentes, Wanda Weethee, Alice Lopez and Dorothy Morrison.

Betty Jean McMillen, Marguerite Woods, Priscilla Hey, Celia Sifuentes.

F. L. Sims, co-partner with Norman Abell in the Pay-less company, presided at the meeting and introduced Abell as toastmaster for the affair.

Following the introduction of company officials and special guests, Toastmaster Abell called on members of the group from both the Santa Ana market and the Belmont Shores market for brief remarks.

TRAFFIC CLASS REGISTERS 32

Thirty-two juvenile traffic school students have been registered with Lieutenant B. A. Hershey, head of the police department traffic squad, to date, a checkup revealed today. They are registered to "take the cure" as traffic violators in Santa Ana.

The school, attendance at which is compulsory for juveniles who violate traffic laws in the city and are arrested, was opened but a few weeks ago. Classes are held each Saturday between 9 and 11 a. m. at a junior college cottage study building on North Sycamore street behind the board of education building.

Attend And Study
Of the group, 12 became graduates last Saturday and 12 others will become graduates when they complete their course tomorrow.

Those arrested must attend and study at four sessions. To complete the course, each student must pass an examination, given by Lieutenant Hershey, which includes 30 questions on traffic laws. Twenty students already are registered to attend tomorrow's classes. Others may be registered today, Lieutenant Hershey said.

Present Program In San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, May 13. — A program arranged by Donald W. Todd was presented at the regular meeting of Men's club Tuesday night. A trio of grammar school girls sang a group of popular songs, with piano accompaniment played by Eileen Sites. Dr. G. O. Jones played clarinet solos with piano accompaniment by his son Richard. Exchanging instruments, Richard played clarinet numbers with his father at the piano.

Harold Boyce, local police officer in charge of the finger-printing department, gave an interesting talk on that phase of police work and its usefulness in crime investigation. The president, Leo Smith, being absent, Verne Bailey presided.

Bristling Beards in Bushy Bidding

....This group of beard growers who are competing in Santa Ana Junior college's annual contest in conjunction with Fiesta day celebration Friday, May 20, seem to be enjoying themselves. Pictured from left to right are Bob Clark, with sideburns and chin, foliage (even though you may not be able to see them); Ray Huntsinger with his busy beard; Vic Rowland who is enjoying the touch of Alcen Miller's hand; and Bob Warren. The youth sitting on the bench with his hand at his chin is Walter Swanberger, who feels "bare" — he's competing for the "scrawnier" beard prize.

FUZZ CULTIVATORS ANXIOUS AS CONTEST CLOSE DRAWS NEAR

With Fiesta day only a week away, the home stretch of Santa Ana junior college's annual beard growing contest is being welcomed by the "he-men" fuzz cultivators.

Each year the college O. K. club sponsors the contest in which the young men go "early California" in conjunction with the annual fiesta celebration. Prizes are donated by Santa Ana merchants for the winners in the following three divisions: bushiest, best trimmed, and scrawnier.

What started out to be mass competition for the various prizes, has turned into a handicapper's picnic with only 20 in the running.

FAST GROWTH OF BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT SHOWN AS ORANGE COUNTY GETS HIGH RATINGS

Popularity and vast growth of the Orange county Boy Scout movement was portrayed here today, with the report issued on the status of the Orange county council activities from January 1, 1938, to May 12, by Harrison E. White, county Boy Scout executive in Santa Ana.

During the past five months, Laguna Beach; troop no. 35, Garden Grove; troop no. 37, Santa Ana; troop no. 41, Laguna Beach, Sea Scouts, and troop no. 107, Laguna Beach Cub Pack. There are 10 other troops in process of organization. They include: troop no. 13, Santa Ana; troop no. 14, Costa Mesa; troop no. 21, San Clemente; troop no. 28, Santa Ana; troop no. 31, Tustin; troop no. 34, Orange, Sea Scout unit; troop no. 74, Anaheim, Sea Scout unit; troop no. 103, Santa Ana, Cub Pack; troop no. 133, Santa Ana, Cub pack and another Cub Pack at the Jefferson elementary school, according to the report issued by White today.

The popularity of the Camp

Many of these troops have started scouting activities. An example of this is cited by the report, issued by White, which states that a total of 842 merit badges have been passed from January 1, 1938 to May 12, 1938. Of this number 436 are new scouts. Another highly encouraging item is noted from National headquarters, where the Orange county council is placed third from the top for April, in percentage growth in region No. 12.

A total of 1,822 Boy Scouts, Sea Scouts and Cub Scouts now are registered units in the Orange county council. Of this number, 1,326 are Boy Scouts, 114 are Sea Scouts and 382 are Cub Scouts. The units themselves include 46 Boy Scout troops, six Sea Scout and 14 Cub Packs.

New troops who have already formed are: Troop No. 7, from Friday. It will be at the dance in the high school gymnasium. Calvin C. Flint, Fiesta faculty adviser, will make the presentations of awards from Swanberger's, Hugh J. Lowe's, and Vanderma's.

The contest is but one of the many features which characterize the college's Fiesta — "the only one of its kind." The annual Fiesta magazine edition of El Don, weekly newspaper, will be issued. Other highlights include the afternoon program on the campus, dinner, and play, "Stage Door."

EDISON P.-T. A. TO CONVENE TUESDAY

The next regular meeting of the Edison P.-T. A. will be held Tuesday, at 2:45 p. m., it was learned today, following a gathering of members and guests at a card party this week at the school.

Sixty-four attended the party at which bridge, "500" and pinocchio were enjoyed. Four prizes were awarded in each game. A Yo-Yo pillow was presented to Mrs. J. Boon as a door prize.

Little Miss Whishernann, of the Visel studio, gave several readings. Coffee and cake were served during the refreshment period.

Mint is one of the oldest herbs used in cooking. Both St. Luke and St. Matthew mention its use in the culinary art at least twice in the New Testament of the Bible.

Irvine was also cited in White's report. It states that 1,144 persons have used the camp since the beginning of the new year.

North Pacific Ports Opened

SEATTLE, May 13.—(UP)—Vessels steamed toward the Port of Tacoma today for the first time since April 30 as a result of a 10 day truce in a dispute between the Sailors' Union of the Pacific and the Waterfront Employers' Association. The Seattle waterfront also became active again after a brief shutdown yesterday.

Crews to handle four ships tied up in Seattle last Saturday were dispatched from the S. U. P. hall at 8 a. m. and the vessels, the Point San Pedro, Makiki, Matthew Luckenbach and Lake Francis, were released for service. They were put into idleness by a S. U. P. embargo on cargo diverted from Tacoma's port, closed 13 days ago by the waterfront employers.

Activity on the Seattle waterfront was interrupted for a time yesterday before employers acceded to the demands of the S. U. P., that the Tacoma port be reopened.

Veteran Navy Man Is Called

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 13.—(UP)—Commodore Burns Tracy Walling, 82, U. S. N., retired, died suddenly at his apartments here late yesterday.

Retired from active service in 1911, Commodore Walling was recalled to duty and assumed the post of engineering inspector for the east coast during the World War. He was regarded as an expert on electricity and was author of a textbook still used, in revised form, at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., where Commodore Walling graduated in 1876.

VARGAS LEADS QUIZ INTO REVOLT PLOT

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 13.—Agents of the special department of social and political order began an investigation today of the abortive revolt of Green Shirt Integralista Fascists which the government suppressed Wednesday.

The investigators established contact with army and police authorities, seeking all information regarding ramifications of the plot, particularly what motives lay behind it.

A information will be handed to Himilaya Virgilio, special attorney for the national security, court. It was predicted that the investigation would be so thorough that months would pass before the case reached the courts.

1500 Arrested
It was estimated in conservative quarters that more than 1500 men had been arrested as suspected accomplices in the plot. Many of these, however, were released after questioning.

Police said that they held every known leader in the actual revolt except Plinio Salgado, the Integralista chieftain.

The city was completely normal except that guards were in greater strength at strategic points.

The government considered that no special measures were necessary.

IN JUVENILE COURT

George Milovich, 19, alias George Melevitch, who was returned to Santa Ana from Mojave yesterday by Officers Charles Wolford and George Boyd to face a burglary charge was certified to juvenile court by Justice Kenneth Morris. Milovich assertedly committed 15 burglaries here when he was 17, with two other youths. The other boys, arrested shortly after the burglaries, were convicted and sent to Jome. Milovich, recently from Kramer, Calif., was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Don Brink of Kern county. Milovich, officers said, admitted burglaries here, in Riverside and San Bernardino.

SPEAKER HITS DOLE SYSTEM

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, May 13.—The Capistrano Rotary club, through President Clarence Brown, brought to outstanding speakers to this community Wednesday evening, David Stoddard Jr., of San Clemente, and Cameron Back, personal director of the New York Stock Exchange. Ray Greene, district governor, also was a guest of the club.

Stoddard spoke during the dinner hour on the German youth movement and his observations of the effect it has on Germany.

The high school auditorium was opened for Beck, and many visitors from nearby communities availed themselves of the opportunity to hear him. Beck has been associated with the New York Stock Exchange for the past 21 years, a concern hiring more high school graduates than any other institution in the United States, and through his knowledge of youth and their requirements he chose as his subject, "Leadership of Tomorrow."

It is the responsibility of clubs and individual members to train these young people for the leadership they expect, by keeping them busy, keeping them in school and helping them to find themselves and their chosen vocation, he said. Beck played the relief and dole system, pointing out the harm it has done in killing the ambition and initiative of more than 200,000 vagabonds in America today.

Three Jailed As Cattle Thieves

FRESNO, Cal., May 13.—(UP)—The west lived here again today when police reported the arrest of three youths on charges of cattle rustling.

A fictitious address on the bill of sale of a stolen calf resulted in the arrest of James Booth, 19, Lewis Dennis, 20, and Earl Baskett, 19, on charges of grand theft and petty theft.

Police said the trio confessed to rustling seven other calves from valley ranches as well as shingles, water pipe, bathroom fixtures, gasoline and tools.

Veteran Diplomat Resigns Post

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—President Roosevelt revealed today that Hugh Gibson, veteran U. S. diplomat and retiring minister to Belgium, has resigned.

Gibson is being replaced at Brussels by Joseph Davies, former ambassador to Soviet Russia. Davies' nomination to the Brussels post was sent to the Senate this week.

Rebel Bombers Raid Barcelona

HENDAYE, French-Spanish Frontier May 13.—(UP)—Nationalist bombers from the Balearic island of Majorca raided Barcelona and other coastal cities again today in preparation for a renewed offensive along the Mediterranean.

At least 30 were killed and 60 wounded in today's raid on Barcelona and, added to yesterday's 46 killed and 48 wounded, the capital feared a renewal of the vicious attacks which claimed approximately 1000 lives two months ago.

LOST HIS TEMPER

CLEVELAND, May 13.—(UP)—Trevor Brandt, 31, a salesman, faced special intoxication charges today because police said his automobile crashed a traffic light and struck two automobiles crossing in front of him—hit a third automobile which was parked—then rammed into the rear of a fourth car. Officers said that when drivers of the four machines began to argue with Brandt, "he became angry, abandoned his car and walked away."

L. B. FESTIVAL HEADS CHOSEN

LAGUNA BEACH, May 13.—With preliminary arrangements well under way, the forthcoming Festival of Arts, to be presented during the week July 29-August 6, promises to be the largest and most comprehensive in the series, of which it will be the seventh.

Frank D. Hever, chairman of the festival committee, yesterday announced committee chairmen, as follows: Arrangement of grounds, Wesley Wall; art exhibits, Miss Virginia Woolley; lighting, George Carbarino; booths, Mrs. Harry Gordon Martin; music, Cleo Allen Hibbs; Pageant of the Masters, Roy M. Ropp.

An augmented orchestra, under Mr. Hibbs, will provide musical background for the reproductions, in living groups, of famous masterpieces of art and sculpture, "Pageant of Masters," which for several years has been an outstanding feature of preceding festivals. In addition to the tableaux presented previously and to be repeated this year, many new living reproductions will be offered, culminating at each performance with the "Last Supper," Leonardo da Vinci's Last Supper Chapel classic.

GOOD WILL FLIGHT TO WARSAW STARTS

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—(UP)—Five Polish airmen, flying a new plane on a "good will" flight from Los Angeles to Warsaw, took off at 9:14 a. m. today on a non-stop hop to Mexico City, first leg of their journey.

Only a small crowd of newspaper cameramen, Polish-Americans and officials of the Lockheed Aircraft Company were at Union Air Terminal when Major Wacław Makowski, general manager of the Polish air lines, took off with his companions in the new twin-motored Lockheed 14.

NELSON ISSUES
BID FOR VOTES

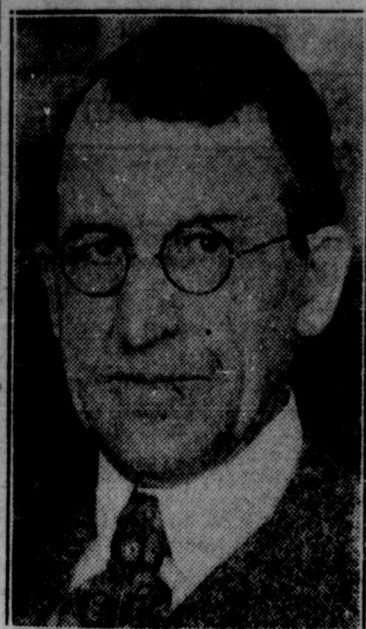

A. P. Nelson, district attorney of Orange county for six years during the early twenties, will ask the voters of Orange county to send him back to that office this fall, he made known today.

Nelson made formal announcement of his candidacy for the district attorney's office and said that he would follow in due time with a statement of the platform upon which he will submit his candidacy to the people.

Private Practice
A native of Vermont, Nelson has practiced law in Orange county 24 years. He is a resident of Santa Ana. In 1915 he first entered public life of the county, being appointed deputy district attorney by L. A. West, then at the head of the office. In 1921, West resigned and the county supervisors appointed Nelson to serve the expired term.

In 1923, Nelson was re-elected to the office. At the end of his term, in 1927, he did not seek the office again, but entered private practice in Santa Ana, after eight years in the prosecutor's office.

Seeks Old Post

A. P. Nelson, district attorney of Orange county from 1921 to 1927, today announced that he will seek return to that office at this year's election.

TOWNSEND NEWS

Mrs. Lillian Rockwell has announced a program for next Tuesday evening at Club No. 6, consisting of the following persons, who will either tell a story or sing a song: A. M. Mapes, Mrs. Ida Lee, Mrs. I. R. Hendree, E. E. Eldridge. Everybody is welcome and club members who have an open night next Tuesday are especially invited to be present.

Down at Costa Mesa a terrific drive is being made by the Three Townsend clubs to secure a full coverage of petition signers that the Townsend Ticket may appear on the ballot this fall. The members of the three clubs have combined their forces and have secured the services of two house solicitors, Mrs. Donald and Mrs. Merriam.

Albert Palmer, president of Townsend club No. 1 at Buena Park has made contact with the headquarters to secure solicitors for petition work and the transfer of registrations into the Townsend party. The matter is being given careful consideration and soon two experienced solicitors will be in the Buena Park field.

The mass meeting to be held at the Townsend headquarters at 509 West 4th street will witness the considering of a very important matter or two. One is the coordinating of the voices to sing in the uniformed chorus at the National Townsend convention that is being held in Los Angeles, Sunday, June 19. Complete details will be given out at this meeting and all women and especially young women who desire to take part in this chorus should be present at the meeting.

Attorney James L. Davis spoke at the Townsend Club meeting at Laguna Beach last night.

All clubs in Orange county desiring speakers should order them through the local headquarters at 509 West 4th street, Santa Ana. This is the orders and instructions from the head office of the Townsend movement in Los Angeles. If club officers will follow this matter out it will save lots of duplicating work and confusion.

Mrs. Jennie L. Bloomquist of Los Alamitos was a pleasant caller at these headquarters Thursday and reports that the Townsend sentiment is on the upgrade in her part of the county.

Next Wednesday the Orange county Women's Auxiliary will hold a very important meeting, and all the Townsend women in the county are urged to be present. The matter of designing uniforms for the women who will appear in the 19th Congressional district chorus of the National convention will be fully explained and the places to secure the same will be announced. The Spanish style hats that have been adopted for uniformity will be the same as those used by the NYA band.

L. A. LIMITED TO RESUME SCHEDULE

As a result of increased travel to Southern California during the past few weeks, coupled with an anticipated peak in summer visitors, A. V. Kipp, assistant traffic manager of the Union Pacific Railroad, said today that the all-pullman, no-extra-fare Los Angeles Limited would resume its previous schedule between Southern California and Chicago on May 22.

"We are now running the Challenger in two sections every day," Kipp pointed out, "and with the many added attractions scheduled in Southern California, we have found it necessary to resume the regular schedule of the Los Angeles Limited."

Union Pacific officials here were optimistic for the summer tourist season, pointing out that recently a second streamliner had been put into service with departures every third day, and predicted new highs in summer visitor figures.

The English Air Ministry has recently published an "Air Almanac" for use by pilots in navigating while in the stratosphere.

MOTOR DANGER
ZONES 'PEGGED'

In cooperation with the Santa Ana Traffic Safety Commission, members of the Orange County Farm Bureau committee on highway safety today revealed eight danger zones on Orange county highways, and held that speed, drunk driving, and boulevard stop violations were the major causes of accidents.

Statistics for the survey made by the committee were secured through the California Highway Patrol offices.

Zones Described
According to the findings of the committee the danger zones were: Newport road from South Main to Corona del Mar; Harbor boulevard from Anaheim to West First street in Santa Ana; Huntington Beach boulevard from Northway station at Buena Park to Midway City; West Seventeenth street from Santa Ana to Bolsa road; coast highway from Huntington Beach to Seal Beach.

Orangethorpe boulevard from Placentia road to west county line; Manchester avenue from county line to highway 101, and highway 101 from county hospital to Ball road.

Principal Causes
Chief causes of accidents were held to be: Newport road, speed 37 per cent; all others 68 per cent; Harbor boulevard, boulevard stops 65 per cent; Huntington Beach boulevard, boulevard stops 42 per cent; West Seventeenth street, boulevard stops 69 per cent; coast highway, speed 37.5 per cent; Orangethorpe, speed 45 per cent; Manchester and highway 101, all violations.

TIRE SAFETY WEEK
IS PUBLIC SERVICE

In directing the attention of American motorists to unsafe tires through National Tire Safety Week, sponsored by the tire industry, a great public service is being performed, according to Herbert Miller, local distributor for a well-known tire.

"There are thousands of car owners riding on tires that are definitely dangerous, not only to themselves and their families but to others using the same roads," Herbert Miller declared.

"In the effort to get the last few miles of tire wear these motorists are taking much longer chances than many of them realize and it is believed that National Tire Safety Week will remove many smooth tires and potential hazards from our highways.

"It has been estimated that there are more than 50,000,000 wornout tires now being driven in this country and it is established that the increasing toll of motor accidents annually is due in part to this fact.

"Even old tires have a trade-in value for new, safe tires with most tire dealers and every car owner in Orange county owes it to himself and the cause of safety to have a free inspection of his tires during National Tire Safety Week, May 14 to 21."

SPINNING THE SPORT WHEEL

Tommy Wilkins pitched and won 8 games for Santa Ana this season. He lost 4. The kid struck out 138 batters, an average of 19 1/2 per game, and walked only 22 in an average of less than 2. Allowing enemy batsmen a total of 40 hits, he averaged only 3 1-3 hits a contest. . . . Brother Jim Wilkins is back from the Cotton States league. Physicians advise him to lay off baseball one year. Jim has the same contract with Clarkdale, Miss., next season. That is a Red Sox farm.

Huntington Beach bookies pay full track odds—if you add 10 cents "insurance" to your racing bets. Too bad the Santa Ana printer wasn't down there when he made his wager on Sassafras the other day. Sassafras came in at 97 to 1. The printer had him in the books here, where the lid was 16-1. . . . Did you notice that Urbain Plavan's Tornillo won again Wednesday (making five wins out of his last six starts)? Plavan went up to Tanager to see the race. Bookies here got another bath when Tornillo came in. It cost them better than a grand. . . . Joe Rodgers Jr. is mascot of the Huntington Beach Oilers. Even looks like the old man. . . . Ex-Saint "Whitney" Mann is back from Colorado, where the family was going to live. "Rather die young in Santa Ana," says Mann, who'll be out for the Don football squad come fall. . . . Jerry Nesmith, potential jockey football star, is an accomplished pianist. . . . Once he got in the game regularly at Cincinnati, Fullerton's Willard (Catcher) Hershberger has made the welkin ring. His batting average is .533. He got 8 hits in his first 15 trips. Who said National League pitching is tough? . . . Inside stuff: one of the real reasons for that athletic upheaval in the Eastern Jersey conference was because administrators wanted to crack down on the coaches. They thought football was beginning to get out of hand. . . . mebbe so, but it's a blessed madness. . . .

Jimmie Heffron passed up Anaheim's opener in the National Night league for the first time in years and years. He's president now and thought it would be diplomatic to look on elsewhere. So he piped off two new clubs, Brea and Whittier. . . . Bobby Peacock of Laguna Beach has qualified for the National intercollegiate tennis tournament at Philadelphia. . . . He will represent the University of California, playing doubles with Douglas Imhoff, who moved to Long Beach after doing junior high work here. . . .

Charley Dean, Trojan great of past football seasons, later coach at San Juan Capistrano high school, has his hat in the ring. Now an insurance man, he's a candidate for the school board of Laguna Beach. . . . The South Methodists have raised the curtain on the Santa Ana City league for the last seven years, or every season they've been in the wheel. They have the honor again Monday night. . . . Remember Nite Luffin, the little Palestinian who won a decision over Sixto Escobar (world's bantam champ) in New York the other night? He's the same Nite Luffin who fought here seven times as an unknown when H. T. Foust ran the Orange County Athletic club. . . .

Eddie Carnett, Santa Ana pitcher with the Angels, almost but not quite was involved in the spectacular deal which sent "Dizzy" Dean from St. Louis to the Cubs. Seems the Cubs owed Los Angeles a player in one of their transactions last year. So Pitcher Clyde Shoun was to join L. A. and Carnett was to go to the Cubs and, in turn, be peddled to the Cardinals along with Curt Davis and Tuck Stainback. They say the deal was so far along that L. A. even had a locker and a unie awaiting Shoun. . . .

Saint Coach Bill Foote believes he has a potential pair of great tackles coming up in "Chuck" Pride and Brent Wahlberg. Pride was a regular last fall. Wahlberg didn't see much action but has filled out to 190 pounds, looks like a swell prospect. . . . Foote figures on some red hot unies for his champion Saints, red pants or something like that. . . . There's a bowling team in the Santa Ana Summer league composed of five Webbs—Charley and Charley Jr., Bill, Dave and Bob. That's what you call keepin' strikes in the family.

Bill Huntaslas will be the only Santa Ana junior college representative at the Fresno Relays. Huntaslas left at noon today. He will compete in the broad jump. Blas Mercurio decided not to make the trip, because there will be no low hurdle race.

Playing for trophies donated by A's Lock and Key shop, Vanderma's and Rankin's, badminton sharks of Frances Willard and Julia Lathrop Junior high schools are in the midst of an inter-team tournament.

Ted Finster, Willard, and Kenneth Crumley, Lathrop, met today in the singles final. Marilyn Bear of Willard won the girls' title yesterday, defeating Jean Turney, 11-1, 11-3. Miss Bear and Hugh Brooks meet Finster and Frances Nall in mixed doubles.

COUNTY PREPS AWAIT TRIALS

Gene Hamaker and Byram Bates, both three-year lettermen, were elected co-captains of Santa Ana high school's track squad at a meeting yesterday. Jack Granados was named captain of the sophomores.

Exactly 123 Southern California high schools compete tomorrow in four C. I. F. divisional track meets, hoping to qualify for the Southern California championship finals at the Los Angeles Coliseum May 21.

Santa Ana and all other Orange County athletes (except Fullerton's) go to Riverside for their trials. This competition attracts boys from the Citrus Belt, Orange County, Sunset, Tri-County, Desert and Riverside County leagues.

Santa Ana sends the following squad:

Class A 100—Duffy; 220—Warhurst; 440—Elliott; 880—Frias; High hurdles—Barron; Relay—Duffy, Warhurst, Elliott and Piper; Shot—Maddock; High jump—Tedrow, Hemmen; Hop, step and jump—Hamaker.

Class B: 100—Jiles, Kelchner; 220—Cullen; 440—Ladiges; 880—Jack Allen; Kenyon Bates; 70 yd. hurdle—Harper, Clark; 120 yd. low hurdles—Dresser, Harper; Clerk; High jump—Ramirez, Brown, Owen; Broad jump—Bates, Jiles, Daniels.

Class C: 50—Bob Allen; 660—Allen, Granados; 120 yd. low hurdles—Edwards Pole vault—Borrell, Morrison, Gene Morrison, Nielsen; Shot put—Granados; Broad jump—Daniels.

Most important of the four battles is the affair scheduled in Glendale. Athletes representing five leagues will cavort on the Hoover track—Foothill, Coast, Bay, San Gabriel and Prep.

The other meets listed will find the Imperial, Metropolitan and Southern loops tangling at San Diego; and San Luis Obispo, Inyo, Ventura, Major and Minor battling at Santa Monica.

Competition in the Glendale affair looms hot and bitter. Inglewood and Compton, co-holders of the Bay league crown; San Diego, Coast league champion; Glendale, winner of the Foothill title; and Montebello's San Gabriel league champions will be in the thick of the fight as will the two Hoovers of Glendale and San Diego, Wilson of Long Beach and Muir Tech of Pasadena.

657 ATHLETES OFF TO FRESNO

FRESNO — (UP) — Under fair skies which gave promise of ideal weather conditions, a record number of 657 track and field athletes were converging on Fresno today in anticipation of furthering the slogan of the West Coast Relays "where world's records fall."

Records will receive their annual buffeting tomorrow afternoon and evening in the Fresno State college stadium. Experts have said the University of California, Stanford and the University of Southern California will be fighting for the team championship. However, many of the outstanding entrants are from the smaller colleges and junior colleges. Such men as Tommy Nelson of Fresno State, Benny Reams of Chico State, Wilbur Miller of Compton and Clyde Jeffery of Riverside promise to push intercollegiate stars to the tape.

Chief interest in the Fresno meet, in which 16 world's records have been placed into the discard in its past eleven years, will be centered on two relay races.

One will be the distance medley relay, with four men running a quarter of a mile, one half, three quarters and a full mile in that order.

In this event U. S. C. with a quartet composed of Erwin Miller, Phil Roulac, Ned Jensen and Louis Zamperini, is being counted upon to break or at least equal the present mark of 9 minutes and 59.4 established at the Texas Relays a few weeks ago.

Coach Brutus Hamilton's California two-mile relay team, based upon past performances this season, is set to take the laurels in its event. The California quartet consists of Modisette, Wieman, Spencer and Miller, is judged capable of breaking the mark if its members perform as they have earlier in the season.

BERRY, CARTER SURVIVE 'ROYAL'

That slight earthquake you felt again last night, about 8:40, was the "wrestling royal" at the Orange County Athletic club. Eight giants of the mat got in the ring simultaneously and did a swell job of committing assault and battery on each other.

The entire gang jumped Black Dragon at the bell, pinning his arms and legs and held him up as target for Marshall Carter's running broad jump. Then came "Comrade" Joseph Smallinski's turn to bite the canvas at the hands of six ruffians. He was asking ring-siders if anyone got the number of the truck that hit him. Next in line was Frankie Clement. He was finally dug out from under an avalanche of behemoths. Bob Lipscomb met up with a barrage of flying fists. Bob Kensington's number came up next. Last but not least, Tony Morelli, met disaster at the hands of "Wild Red" Berry and Marshall Carter, who battered him around the ring like a football.

Berry and Carter being the two survivors, they were picked to wrestle the main event. This bout was referred by Youkon Jake, the scourge of Alaska who challenged the winner.

Berry used every dirty tactic known to wrestling to spoil Carter's manly frame, kicking him out among the ring-siders and strangling him as he crawled back. But Carter outsmarted him with a series of running broadjumps followed with a body press to win the decision in 27:55.

Enraged at Yukon Jake's decision, Berry popped the Alaska on the button, knocking the "ref" so slub-nutty he began shadow boxing at the world in general. Finally convinced he had been "Red's" victim, he took off for the dressing rooms to return the compliment. It is still a mystery just who won the final jamboree.

Anti-Nazis Act On Jacobs' Refugee Offer

NEW YORK — (UP)—The executive committee of the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi league met in emergency session today to consider its boycott of the Max Schmeling-Joe Louis heavyweight championship fight here June 22.

The meeting was called after Promoter Mike Jacobs, apparently attempting to stymie the boycott, had offered 10 per cent of the fight's profits to President Roosevelt's foreign refugee aid movement.

Jacobs' offer was delivered in letter form to Marvin McEntyre, presidential secretary. It stated that the 10 per cent would amount to at least $7,500.

The gesture was regarded as an attempt to attract a part of New York's 2,500,000 Jewish population to the fight.

Galento, Ring's Bad Boy, Fights Tonight

NEW YORK—Tonight's fight in Madison Square Garden is billed simply as a 10-round engagement between Tony (Two-Ton) Galento and Nathan Mann.

On the surface it is nothing more than a Friday night bout between two men with mediocre talents. But do not be deceived—it is much more than that. When the bell rings it will be:

1. The great out-of-doors vs. pool hall and gin mill.
2. Sweet milk and water vs. applejack and beer.
3. Spaghetti vs. spaghetti.
4. Rope skipping vs. rocking chair.
5. Rustic vs. roisterer.
6. Early to bed, early to rise vs. late to bed and bloodshot eyes.

This is a partial list of the things that differentiate tonight's two fighters. Mann, a farmer until two years ago, leads a life that Lionel Strongfort, Mahatma Gandhi, and the Metropolitan Insurance company would endorse for its rugged simplicity.

But not Galento. Tony is the sort of fellow who isn't satisfied with just burning his candle at both ends, but sets fire to the middle, also. Fresh air makes him dizzy, so he spends 16 or 17 hours in a saloon down by the railroad tracks—a saloon of which he is proprietor, bartender, and best customer. It's the busiest pub in six counties, because when Tony isn't drawing a beer for a patron he is knocking the head off of one for himself.

"Beer nourishes me," he says.

By HENRY McLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

"Just like a baby needs milk, I need beer."

Tony has never understood why the New York boxing commission once suspended him because of his training methods. Working out in the back room of his saloon, and sticking close to a diet of beer and hot dogs, he has licked such fighters as Al Ettore, LeRoy Haynes, Charley Massera, and Lorenzo Pack—spinach eaters all.

Tony, who is built along the lines of a gorilla, but lacks a gorilla's grace, says that skipping rope or chopping down trees or running through the woods as other fighters do, would give him a headache.

"I tried it once," he says, "and it made me feel faint-like all over. If I hadn't had a hooker of applejack handy I mighta passed out."

Galento trained for the bout with Mann in the usual way. His only concession to training will be made at dinner tonight when he will forego hot dogs with his spaghetti and eat a bowl of spiced veal and peppers instead. The peppers, he allows, heats him up and have him ready for action the minute the bell is sounded.

Mann is a fancy boxer, with a stand-off, jabbing style, but Galento has refused to adjust his technique to meet this style. Tony describes his own technique thusly: "I just stand out there and punch with both hands, and let happen what happens."

The PAYOFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON (NEA Service Sports Editor)

BALTIMORE, Md.—If Dauber, the blunderer, or Maurice Peters, the aboard him, can manage to make a few less mistakes, Willie du Pont's stretch-running son of Penant should win the Preakness tomorrow.

Ten days ago Herbert M. Woolf, the Kansas City department store tycoon, didn't think enough of Lawrin to pay a $1500 supplementary Preakness entrance fee. So in the historic Pimlico fixture, the richest of all 3-year-old engagements this year at $70,000 added, Dauber will not be annoyed by the big hay he chased home in the Kentucky Derby. And with Stagehand in the barn, it appeared as though Lawrin and Dauber led nothing more than eight sprinters and beats down that last long yards at Churchill Downs.

Dauber came from nowhere to be Santa Anita Derby in late February. Dauber is everlastingly coming from nowhere to be second to a horse or another. But, with Lawrin and Stagehand out, I suspect that the Foxcatcher Farms stayer will get his big break in the Preakness. Certainly, he has one coming.

Of course, new trouble may develop from any one of a half dozen of nine nags going in the Preakness who did not start in the Derby. The surprising result in the Blue Grass—with the favorites, Fighting Fox and Bull Lea, fouling up like camp stool—has brought about a sharp revision of opinions and a new development of battle lines.

FOX TO WEAR BLINKERS

While the veteran trainer hopes to correct the sulking Fighting Fox's difficulty with blinkers, Stormswood of the Wheatley stable suddenly becomes the top half of the Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons entry in the Preakness. And Hal Price headley, who chose Menow over Bourbon King for the Derby, now banks on the latter.

Owners and trainers held Fighting Fox and Bull Lea in such regard that Stormswood, Bourbon King, Nedary, Sun Egret, Bull Whip, Pasteurized, Cravat and the crack filly Anafame were not shipped from the east to Louisville. In view of developments at the Downs, it's hard to know what they were afraid of.

Nedary, though disappointed in the Wood Memorial, apparently is the hand. Nedary did nothing in the spring a year ago, but developed so well in the fall that he bagged the Pimlico Futurity.

Bourbon King finished away back in the Wood, but a repetition of his Chesapeake Stakes victory might stir up trouble in the Preakness. Anafame has to be considered, but I doubt that she will come into her own until she hits the first important events for her sex, the Acorn at a mile and the Oaks at a mile and three-eighths, feature of the current meeting at Belmont Park.

Bull Whip, Cravat and Pasteurized figure to get nowhere in a hurry in the Preakness.

SEEEKS MATCH RACE

Lawrin is a big horse, standing 16 1/2 hands high and weighing 1150 pounds. Woolf and Jones contend that he will run a mile and a half like breaking sticks. Woolf, having failed to nominate him for the Belmont Stakes, a futurity event, Jones says he would like to pay $5000 for the privilege of starting Lawrin in that big number. Lawrin's absence from the Belmont Stakes may well leave the three-year-old title of 1938 open for debate.

Woolf expresses the belief that Lawrin would beat Seabiscuit and War Admiral if permitted to compete in their match race at Belmont May 30. He asserts that he gladly would give Charles S. Howard and Samuel D. Riddle side bets.

But I'd advise him against that. The horses that got to the Derby this year looked more like a field of platers than anything else. I am afraid Lawrin was nothing more than the best of the mediocre lot.

MORRISON IN JUDGE'S RACE

Begins Drive

Drawing attention to the approaching judicial election, which should be one of the focal points of interest in the balloting next August, Justice Kenneth E. Morrison, of Santa Ana, today made formal announcement of his candidacy for judge of superior court, department two.

Judge Morrison is an attorney and a member of the state and county bar, with 14 years experience on the bench of Orange County's only class "A" justice court. He now seeks elevation to the court where he served as clerk many years ago and received his first legal training under Judge R. Y. Williams, dean of the Orange County bench and bar.

Beats 4 Opponents
In 1924 he stepped out of Judge Williams' court into the vacancy on the bench of the Santa Ana Justice Court.

In the next election he was elected over four opponents at the primary. Since then he has been re-elected regularly without opposition. During his administration the jurisdiction of the court, the busiest in the county, has been increased to correspond approximately with the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles municipal courts.

In addition to his judicial position, Judge Morrison is known for his citizenship training work with boys and girls. He has been active in church, Y. M. C. A. and Boy Scout groups. The cheering section of boys and girls which he regularly leads during the gridiron season has become a familiar part of Santa Ana football.

TUBERCULOSIS BROADCAST SET

The second of the series of broadcasts on tuberculosis made possible by the co-operation of a local station will be sponsored by the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association, at 11:45 a. m. Tuesday.

F. William Dohr, district coordinator for Orange county of the bureau of rehabilitation of the state department of education, will answer questions put to him by the executive secretary of the tuberculosis association, Mrs. Edna Hewitt Crawford.

Dohr will explain as to what his program consists and how it helps to solve the problems of tuberculosis patients as well as those of other disabled persons whether their condition be caused by an accident, by heredity or other illness.

The third and fourth series of the tuberculosis broadcasts will be given at 11:45 a. m. May 24 and 31. Tuberculosis was the cause of 71 deaths in Orange county in 1937.

LA HACIENDA IN 3-DAY FIESTA

A genuine bit of Old Mexico in the heart of Orange county is the boast of Sol Gonzales, Santa Ana restaurateur and owner of La Hacienda cafe, 2826 West Fifth street, Santa Ana, as he announced the three-day celebration of the first year of business at the present location.

Sol is well known throughout the county, if not for his epicurean abilities then for his violin accomplishments. He has been a resident of Santa Ana for the past 25 years although he just started in the cafe business—having been a shoe salesman previously. Sol assures that there is no connection between shoe leather and the delicious Mexican steaks he serves now.

Family Joins In
Chief pride of La Hacienda is the fact that the entire family take part in the operation of the cafe. Sol is general manager while Mrs. Gonzales supervises the kitchen where the tacos, enchiladas and Mexican steaks are prepared. Isabelle Lucero, a sister, reigns over the cash register and conducts the dining room as Dan Garcia, a brother-in-law, operates the service bar. Dan Garcia, Jr., is the cafe artist who painted the decorations for the cafe. Adeena Gamboa and a niece, Carlotta Mirabel, furnish musical entertainment for La Hacienda.

Starting tonight and continuing through Saturday and Sunday, Sol has arranged special prices and entertainment in celebration of his first "birthday."

Pupils Present P. T. A. Program

FULLERTON, May 13.—Children of the school provided the program for the Maple P. T. A. association Wednesday. An interesting part of the program was "In Old Rome," a skit written and presented by children of the sixth grade. Miss Mildred Swan led the orchestra in a group of numbers and the verse speaking choir recited.

Mrs. Grace Kenney, president, appointed Mrs. Frank Stroschein, Mrs. Jack McCarty, Mrs. Ruby Goodwin, and Mrs. Dick Burdoff as a committee to serve a dinner Tuesday at Add Fellows' hall, to raise funds for the soup kitchen.

The baseball game played during sixth period last Monday between the junior and senior girl's teams was won by the juniors by a score of 6 to 3. This game was the first in a series of inter-class games. Succeeding the interclass contests will be games between the various classes of all the high schools in Orange county. These will be held out of town.

The Santa Ana Senior high school girl tennis club swept all four singles and two doubles against Anaheim high school in last week's match. It was played at Anaheim. They also defeated the Fullerton high school girl's team last Tuesday, which was played on the Santa Ana high school courts. Their next match will be with Laguna at Laguna.

The swimming team under the direction of Miss Margaret Glenn, will attend a meet at Huntington Beach tomorrow. This meet is not one of competitive sports, but they will enter into many in the near future.

Job's Daughters and the DeMolay will act as hosts to seniors on May 26 at 8:00 p. m. when they present the annual DeMolay dance which promises to be an affair of unusual importance.

Practice for final graduation events will be held at 1:00 p. m. on June 9 at which time all seniors are required to meet in the auditorium.

Baccalaureate services will be held in the high school auditorium on the evening of June 12 at 7:30 p. m. at which time parents and friends of the seniors will be admitted by ticket only. Three tickets will be presented to each senior. Commencement exercises will be

Arrange Rites Of Anaheim Resident

ANAHEIM, May 13.—Funeral services for Mrs. Emilie Messerschmidt, 80, a resident of Anaheim for 45 years, who died yesterday morning at her home on West Broadway, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. She was born in Germany and came to the United States when she was nine years old.

She leaves her husband, Albert; a son, Herbert Messerschmidt; two daughters, Miss Elizabeth Messerschmidt and Mrs. Laura Ramm, and four grandchildren, all of Anaheim. She was a member of Salem Evangelical church.

Funeral services will be held from the chapel of Backs, Terry and Campbell, the Rev. U. S. Schauer officiating. Burial will be at the family plot at Loma Vista cemetery.

FITZ IN HOSPITAL

TALBERT, May 13.—Holles Fitz, principal of Fountain Valley school, is a patient at St. Joseph hospital, where he was taken for treatment for blood poisoning which he is suffering in a finger of the left hand. It was feared at first that amputation of the finger might be necessary but he was improved at the last report.

Mrs. Dorothy Robb is substituting for Mr. Fitz in his absence.

HORTON STAGES 'DWARF' CIRCUS

The snarl of the caged tiger as he rebels against the command of the trainer; the laughter-provoking antics of the clowns; the daring of the trapeze artists—all this and more are shown in the three ring, seven act circus now going on at the J. C. Horton furniture store, 517 North Main street.

A circus in a store? Certainly.

Smallest in World
Secured through the Cardona Studio, of Hollywood, designers of animated miniature movie sets, the Horton company has brought to Santa Ana for its premier showing, "the smallest circus in the world."

Nearly 400 moving figures are included in the show "under the big top," many of which are in the 14 foot parade that requires three minutes to complete the circuit around the three rings.

Nor is the animation confined solely to the parade. Swinging through the air "with the greatest of ease," dare-devil trapeze artists make complete somersaults. Fearless clowns sway perilously atop relatively towering ladders as the Wild West cowboys ride furiously.

Accurate Scale

The entire collection of models has been built and designed by Robert Cramm and Carlos Cardona on an accurate scale of three eighths of an inch to one foot.

Circus wagons, ring-masters, performing seals and elephants are only a small part of the miniature circus. So far as is known to the builders, it is the smallest miniature ever built that carries a complete circus performance.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, May 13. — Idol Chatter: Barbara Stanwyck seldom loses her temper, but when she does... Holy Gee and Gosh! Cited for the red badge of courage: Joan Fontaine—who played a tomato vine outside the sound stage where she is working. Never knew anyone with a greater repertoire of parlor tricks than Gene Raymond. Peas from the same pod: Derrick de Mornay, RKO's new English star, and Tullio Carminati.

When you go for a stroll with Joan Crawford, never take her arm—she doesn't care for such attention. Hollywoodites: James Cagney—passionate crusader against hunting, who collects firearms. An interview with Louise Rainer is an adventure in neurosis. Heights of something or other the fan letter Mary Carlisle received from a South American Croesus—it contained a $1000 bill and a proposal of marriage.

Things that bore me: the endless hubbub about who is Hollywood's best dressed woman. Phyllis Brooks is a victim of nyctophobia—involuntary fear of the dark. Among life's little tragedies list Irene Dunne's refusal to appear on the screen in a bathing suit. Remember when you were young enough to believe that there was a Santa Claus—and that movie stars personally answered their fan mail?

Last night my next door neighbor gave a dinner party and the conversation drifted to Mary Pickford—and the biography which she is writing. One of the guests—a lady M. D., who after nearly ten years of struggle is now building a fine practice and a brilliant reputation for original research work—made a few observations that are worth passing along. "Miss Pickford," she pointed out, "is still in her early forties. No other woman has ever won more fame, or made more money from a profession. And yet, at an age when her greatest achievements should lie ahead of her, she is writing the story of her career—in the past tense. I am sorry for her!"

Speaking of fallen stars, I had lunch with Evelyn Brent today... and encountered an interesting irony. Eight years ago, Evelyn was earning $3,000 a week. Every one was her "friend" and everyone helped her spend her money. Being in the social swim, she dressed expensively, entertained lavishly, and drove umpteen thousand dollar cars. When she tumbled from stardom, she was broke. Now, slowly fighting back via bit roles, she is earning perhaps $200 a week. Her "friends" have attached themselves to newer celebrities and she lives modestly and inexpensively. And... for the first time since she came to Hollywood... she is saving money!

Tyrone Power and Don Ameche, being rivals, should by Hollywood tradition, also be bitter enemies. As a matter of fact they are devoted friends—and here is a chuckle to prove it. Some time ago, when they were working together in "Alexander's Ragtime Band" Don came down with the flu. Because his absence meant that all production work must stop, he returned to the

ROSS HELD GUILTY IN FEDERAL COURT

Locel E. Ross, former superior court shorthand reporter here, was found guilty by a jury in the court of Federal Judge Ralph E. Jenney yesterday in Los Angeles on four counts of an indictment charging him with sending obscene matter through the United States mails.

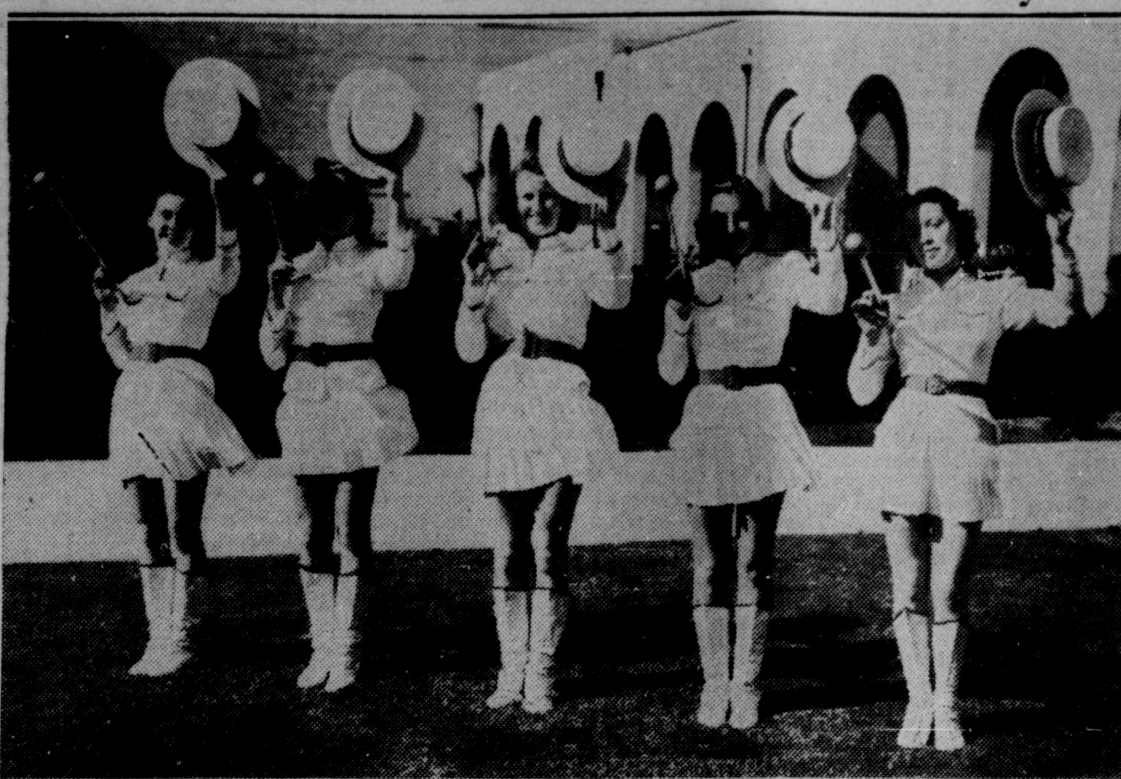

Ross, acting as his own attorney, filed a motion for new trial and arrest of judgment. One month ago, the Santa Ana was acquitted by a jury in another federal court on charges of receiving obscene matter. The federal grand jury quickly reindicted Ross on the same evidence. Ross was released yesterday on bond, pending disposition of the several motions.

Work of Sheets To Be Displayed

An exhibit of the work of Millard Sheets, Claremont artist, will be held at the public library May 16 to 30, inclusive. Ethel Walker, librarian announced today. Sheets' work has been accorded a place of high honor in the international exhibit of water color painting which is currently showing at the Art Institute in Chicago. One entry there, "Mystic Night," picture of tropical waters, was awarded one of the 17 cash prizes. He was invited to place 22 of his pictures in the Chicago exhibit. They were given a prominent display spot at the exhibit which revealed 250 pictures. The show at the library here will reveal both water colors and prints by Sheets.

In an effort to test the Bristol Pegasus engine in Great Britain, to determine whether or not the engine would stand up under tropical rain storm water was flooded over it at the rate of 120 gallons an hour.

Pulchritudinous Paraders Honor Straw Hat Day

Santa Ana's high school bevy of beautiful baton twirlers, members of the band, above, will head the parade of straw hat season celebrants tomorrow, beginning at 11 a. m. The straw hatters will parade through Santa Ana streets and will include both high school and Santa Ana junior college beauties. Bands furnished by the high school, with C. Kenneth Heiges directing, and the National Youth Administration, with Ted Collins directing, will provide music for the parade event.

DEADLINE FOR ALIENS IS SET

The Veteran's Naturalization Act, which provides easy means of procuring American citizenship for any alien who aided the American cause in military or naval service during the World War, will expire on May 25, it was stated today by Franklin Davis, assistant inspector in charge of the U. S. immigration and naturalization service in Orange county.

Davis called attention to the advisability of immediate action by any veteran who wishes to seize this chance of naturalization without cost and by easier method. Anyone desiring to take advantage of the act should file application immediately, he said. The act, he explained, applies to veterans of allied armies or navies if they had lived in the United States prior to the war and left this country to join the services of any allied power, as well as to those aliens who served with the American forces.

Mrs. Glenn Will Join College Staff

Mrs. Louise B. Glenn, wife of Thomas Glenn, head of the English department at Santa Ana Junior college, will be a member of the French summer school staff at Mills college from June 26 until August 5, it was revealed today.

Mrs. Glenn is member of the modern language faculty at Scripps college for girls, at Claremont. During the summer session, Mrs. Glenn will teach stylistics, contemporary French fiction, phonetics and diction. Immediately following the summer session, Mrs. Glenn will join her husband, who plans an early trip to England. He will conduct a party abroad this summer.

HIGH SCHOOL, COLLEGE GIRLS TO PARADE ON STRAW HAT DAY

Straw hat season for Santa Ana stores officially opens tomorrow at 11 a. m. when a bevy of Santa Ana high school and junior college girls will hold a parade through downtown streets under escort of Lieutenant B. A. Hershey, head of the Santa Ana police motor squad, and his men.

Two bands, the Santa Ana high school band, directed by C. Kenneth Heiges, and the National Youth Administration band, directed by Ted Collins, will be featured in the parade as will the high school band's pulchritudinous group of uniformed girl baton twirlers.

Reveal Latest Styles
Most of the paraders will ride in new-model cars furnished by the automobile dealers of the city. The parade, in which models of the 1938, fashionable, ultra-modern straw hats for men will be featured, will reveal latest styles in Sailor, Panama and "body" hats—the height of summery smartness.

Line of March
Starting at the junior college building, Main and 10th streets, the procession will go south on Main to Fifth, east on Fifth to Spurgeon, south on Spurgeon to Fourth, west on Fourth to Broadway, north on Broadway to 10th and east on 10th to the junior college building.

DE MOLAYS OF WORLD TO BE REPRESENTED AT ANNUAL RITE BY BIBLE FROM SANTA ANA

Each year when rededication of De Molays to the principals of Order of De Molay takes place in the little village of Molay, France, Santa Ana chapter will be represented by the Holy Bible, prefaced with pictures of three Santa Anans, John K. Schrier, Shelley Horton and Louis McCowen.

When the first annual pilgrimage was made to France last summer by 40 De Molays from all over the land, Schrier, Horton and McCowen were Santa Ana's representatives. When the party arrived at the chateau where Jacques de Molay was born, the Bible which was to have been used in the ceremony, was missing. John Schrier loaned his own Bible for the occasion, and it is this book which is to become the national De Molay Bible.

Impressive Solemnity
Kneeling at the hearthside in the chateau room where Crusader Jacques De Molay was born, the 40 De Molays rededicated themselves to De Molay principals. R. E. Dickerson of Kansas City, Mo., director of activities for Grand Council of De Molay, conducted the ceremonies, with Frank Buckingham of Kansas City, as spokesman. From the little chateau in Molay, the De Molays continued on their tour, visiting many of the churches in which Jacques De Molay had organized his crusades. It has been almost a year since the first De Molay pilgrimage was made to France. Schrier presented his Bible to Santa Ana chapter.

HUSTON NAMED BY CHURCHMEN

Dr. C. G. Huston, of Costa Mesa, member of the Santa Ana Congregational church, today took office as moderator of the Southern California Congregation Conference following his election at the closing of an annual meeting of the conference in Bakersfield.

Others elected were Rev. William Forshaw of La Jolla, vice president and assistant moderator; Mrs. Bryan N. Brown, Los Angeles, second assistant moderator, and Rev. Chester Ferris, Norwalk, secretary.

Delegates selected to attend the congregational international conference in 1940 included Rev. A. D. Stauffer, Claremont; Rev. Roy H. Campbell, San Diego; Rev. Cass A. Reed, Pomona, and Prof. Raymond C. Brooks, Los Angeles. Resolutions adopted by the conference included one which urged "abandonment of all existing plans for industrial mobilization and universal conscription, thus warning militarists that the American people will not tolerate war abroad nor dictatorship at home."

REV. HICKS TO JOIN COUNCIL

Plans were being completed today by the Rev. C. D. Hicks, 1222 South Broadway, pastor of Christian Missionary Alliance church, for attendance at the National General Council of Alliance Churches, to open in Oakland Monday, May 16, and continue for one week.

This is the first time the council has ever been held on the Pacific coast, as its sessions are usually in New York or in some large city of the middle west.

Well Represented
The event is expected to attract prominent churchmen from all sections of the United States.

Mrs. Hicks will accompany the Rev. Mr. Hicks on the trip, and they plan to remain for a few days' visit with old friends in San Joaquin valley after the close of the convocation. Mrs. Frank Garlock of the church membership also plans to go north for the council, and other members of the church may decide to attend some of the sessions.

PLAN SPECIAL PROGRAM

Special plans have been announced for next Tuesday night's meeting of Woodrow Wilson P.-T. A. in the school auditorium. The program, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, will feature a colorful operetta to be presented by children of the school.

last week with the stipulation that the boys give the book to Grand Council. Bound in the volume with the pictures of the three Santa Ana De Molays is a parchment page telling of the rededication ceremony occurring July 9, 1937 in France.

Greatest Honors
The Bible, in a leather case, will be presented formally to Grand Council early in July when International conference will be held at Council headquarters, Kansas City, Mo.

Schrier and Horton won De Molays' highest distinction when the degree of chevalier were conferred on them last summer at the time of the pilgrimage. Horton's father, Dr. Roy S. Horton, is advisor of the local chapter, and has aided in carrying out arrangements for sending the Bible to De Molay headquarters.

YOU ALL CAN'T SAY WE DIDN'T TELL YOU: DON'T DO IT TODAY!

This is no day to bet on the horses, roll dice, or start a journey.

It's the wrong time to start an argument with your wife, on account of she'll probably score a bull's eye with the rolling pin. Even if you ducked in time to avoid a knot on the head, you probably would get a permanent kink in your neck.

They Still Do

The whole thing dates back to the dark and very dim past, when there weren't any taxes or depressions and people believed in bogies, ghosts and miracles.

It dates back to the period when the good folk believed in the invocation of devils or demons involving the supposition of some tacit agreement between them and human beings.

In brief, today is Friday the Thirteenth.

—But Unbroken ? ?

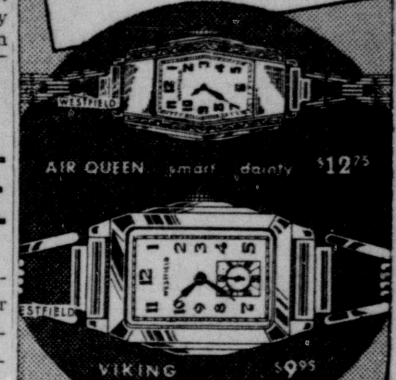

So:

Be careful of the mirrors; watch out for the black cats; don't walk under ladders; there might be a man with a can of paint up above.

If, by good fortune, you manage to pull through the day with all bones intact—your bank roll still bent, but unbroken—then you may in truth be thankful. You can rest, for the next fatal Friday the Thirteenth will not occur until January, 1939.

Pretty Setting At Rutan-Tuthill Springtime Functions

Springtime hospitality which Mrs. A. W. Rutan and Mrs. Robert G. Tuthill have been extending to different groups of guests found charming setting again yesterday afternoon in the Rutan home, 2435 Riverside Drive, where the two hostesses gave their second party of the week.

Yesterday's affair furthered much the same plan as did the first party Wednesday afternoon. There were Cecil Brunner Roses and forget-me-nots, pink peonies and many other flowers in delicate tints to enhance the dignified beauty of the home.

Aiding in serving luncheon, and in carrying out other party features were the Misses Harriet Rutan, Mary and Martha Tuthill, daughters of the hostesses.

Bridge was in play at eight tables following the serving of luncheon. Winning prizes were awarded Mrs. Charles Kendall and Mrs. Earl Morrow.

Edison Women Arrange Enjoyable Program For Mothers

Happy associations and friendships were renewed Wednesday night by members of Edison Women's committee with mothers of committee members, when the annual Mother's day program was shared in the Y. W. clubrooms. For the past four years, this event has been outstanding on the May calendar for club members.

Miss Elizabeth Millen, committee chairman, received the guests, and presented each mother with a gardenia. Mary Belle Adams, program chairman, expressed formal welcome to the guests of honor, and related the history of Mother's day.

She introduced as special guest, Mrs. Jeannette L. Rees, Southern California general chairman of Edison Women's committee, who also voiced welcome to the mothers, and explained some of the company interests.

An appropriate song program by Mrs. J. M. McDonald, included "Morning," "Smiling Through" and "Mother." Mr. McDonald, an Edison employee, accompanied his wife, and added two piano solos. "Some-where a Voice is Calling" and "Who Are We to Say." Two graceful dances, a May Day fantasy and a gypsy number, were given by Miss Marguerite Alvord, sister of one of the club members, Miss Dolly Jane Alvord. Motion pictures in technicolor were screened by Jack Kahler, one reel of the Grand Canyon and the other titled "Edison Folks."

Following the program members and guests sought the dining room where flowered table covers and candles made an attractive spot in which to enjoy strawberry tarts and coffee. To Mrs. E. D. Webb, guest of her sister, Katherine Goodrich, was presented the door prize, a waffle set of batter and syrup pitchers.

Members and guests present were Mary Belle Adams and Mrs. D. T. Brown; Dolly Jane Alvord and Mrs. T. R. Alvord; Ida Aspelin and Mrs. Gus Aspelin; Beulah Davis and Mrs. C. H. Primary Education Group Has Official Installation

Installation of new officers of Orange County Association for Primary Education, was accomplished at a very enjoyable dinner party held in Hotel Laguna, Laguna Beach, early this week, when Miss Esther Funk of Huntington Beach, concluded a successful year and resigned the presidency to her successor, Mrs. Hilda Eckles of this city.

The charm of the party setting, with wide windows commanding an unparalleled view of sea and shore, and with quantities of flowers garlanding the candle-lit dinner tables, was augmented by the corsage bouquets presented to the guests of honor. These were chosen to match the smart dinner gowns worn, and were especially charming on the costumes worn by incoming and retiring officers.

Special Guests
Miss Funk presented the guests at the speakers' table who included Robert Hill Lane, assistant superintendent of Los Angeles schools, and Mrs. Lane; William Abbott, principal of Susan M. Dorsey Grammar school, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Abbott; Ray Adkinson, Orange county superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Adkinson; Mrs. W. T. Kirven of this community, state chairman of physical education department; Mrs. Dorothy Steever, Fullerton, president of Southern section, Association for Childhood Education; C. Addison Van Loenen, Laguna Beach, elementary school principal, and Mrs. Van Loenen; Mrs. Dora Pankey Gilnes, assistant county superintendent of schools; Mrs. Margaret Bolte, junior past president of the host association, and installing officer for the evening, and Mrs. Evelyn Korf, president of Fourth District P. T. A.

Music on the program was provided by Cleo Allen Hibbs, gifted composer-musician of Our Village. To his own piano accompaniment, he sang a group of his own beautiful songs, including "Mountains," "Life," and various others, equally enjoyed by the group.

Mrs. Bolte, wearing gardenias and a lipstick red taffeta bolero with her pretty white dinner gown, had planned a charming floral ceremony for installation. To Miss Funk, retiring president, she presented flowers that harmonized with her gown of deep wine lace accented with rhinestones to match the jeweled fillet in her hair.

New Officers
Pink roses were ready for Mrs. Eckles, the new president, and were lovingly with her formal black dinner gown. Miss Ruth Van Zant of La Habra, received carnations to complete her desert sand frock with wine red jacket, when she was installed as vice president. Miss Lucie McDermott of Lowell school, Santa Ana, in periwinkle blue, the new secretary, and Miss Lola Vail of Westminster, in pastel taffeta, as treasurer, both received flowers to match their gowns.

These officers succeeded Miss Funk, Miss Ruth Fitz of Jefferson school, Santa Ana; Miss Mary Lemke, Brea-Olinda school; Mrs. Myra Jones of Placentia. Other retiring officers are Mrs. Glines, sponsor, and several chairmen, Mrs. Elizabeth Hyde, Balboa, public relations; Miss Caroline Hartman, Fountain Valley, constitution and by-laws; Miss Eleanor Markham, Seal Beach, education, and Miss Fern Tedrow, Wilson school, Santa Ana, public relations. Their successors will soon be appointed.

Fine Address
"Trends in Childhood Education" as the theme of a talk by Robert Hill Lane, gave valuable pointers to the interested teachers, as tasks ahead of them were outlined, with suggestions as to means of accomplishments. The educator seasoned his sage advice with such delightful humor, that he proved to be one of the most popular speakers ever entertained by the group.

Association members planning decorations, program and other phases of the annual affair were Mrs. Vivian Bigelow of Laguna Beach, assisted by Miss Funk, Mrs. Glines, Miss Fitz, Mrs. Bolte and Mrs. Gertrude Winchester. To them was given every possible assistance by C. Addison Van Loenen of the Laguna Beach school system.

Motorcycle Club Gives Party For Members

A lively interest in Black and Motorcycle club affairs was manifested by members Wednesday night with a large attendance at the clubrooms on the Felkner ranch, Tustin.

Details of speed and time attained by vlad Sunday's hill climb participants at the Weinman ranch north of Hollywood, were related by the vice-president, T. W. Atkinson. Two visiting San Diego cyclists, Messrs. McGregor and Wagner, were introduced by B. J. Rathbun.

Following the business meeting, the club made Mr. and Mrs. Carter honor guests by asking them to lead a gay military procession to the dining table. Nasturtiums and white streams were used to garland this table, centered with a seven-tiered wedding cake. A corsage of sweet peas, presented to Mrs. Carter, was matched with a boutonniere for Mr. Carter, and to the former was presented a charter membership card, the gift of the club.

Devotions preceding the serving of the menu, were led by Ralph Dearing, retiring club president. Dinner favors were good wishes for the honor guests, read aloud by members in turn. Dancing completed a pleasant evening.

Pioneer Mothers Paid Annual Courtesy By Native Daughters

That courtesy which Santa Ana parlor Native Daughters, pays annually to pioneer mothers of the district, was observed this week as one of the features of the general observance of Mother's day.

Educational building of First Christian church was chosen by Native Daughters as setting for the event, and its spacious charm was enhanced by the brilliant variety of flowers arranged by Mrs. Hazel Flaherty. Not only did she plan the decorations, but she provided the flowers, and because these came from a pioneer home, the old Greenleaf place on West Nineteenth street, where Mrs. Flaherty was born and reared, they seemed deeply appropriate to the occasion.

Half a hundred pioneer mothers shared the pleasant afternoon, each of them relating some of her memories of early days. To Mrs. Elizabeth McLeod, 94 years old, was presented a cluster of lovely flowers, as eldest mother present, with a similar bouquet for Mrs. Martha Jensen, oldest in point of Southern residence, as she has lived here since 1877. Following the friendly afternoon, Mrs. Clara McPherson Jones of El Modena, expressed appreciation of the mothers assembled, for the pleasures of the afternoon, which included the serving of refreshments.

Culminating the Mother's day tea was the evening meeting of the parlor in K. C. Hall. At this time, Mrs. Genevieve Hickey and Mrs. Hazel Flaherty were named as delegates to Grand Parlor, convening in Santa Barbara next month. Mesdames Elizabeth Marsile and Lillian Gant were named as alternates.

Mrs. Evelyn Shattuck of Ligonja parlor, San Bernardino, district deputy grand president, was a guest, and commended the parlor on its fine accomplishments during the year. She also expressed regret at the long continued illness of Mrs. Mattie Edwards, which keeps her from following her duties as parlor president.

Reports included that given by Mildred Wheeler on a successful luncheon which netted a pleasing sum for the history and landmarks section. Plans were made for disposing of a handsome quilt in dahlia design, to benefit the charity fund. Eunice Fox will have this in charge. Other plans included the party to honor this year's naturalization class. This will be held in June, with Mrs. Matilda Lemon as chairman, assisted by Miss Evelyn Hilgenfeld.

ANNIVERSARY EVENT

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hughes celebrated their 13th wedding anniversary Wednesday evening at a dinner party in their home, 1317 West Walnut street. Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gish were their guests.

Yellow daisies in a bubble bowl centered the table, brightened with green tapers in yellow holders, with nut cups and other details carrying out the same motif.

Wedding Bell Theme Prevails At Personal Shower

Combining their plans for a prettily-arranged party last night, Mrs. Mack Harris of Los Angeles and Mrs. Florence Nelson gave a personal shower for their niece, Miss Toni Barrios, whose marriage to Gil Torba will occur Sunday, May 22.

Mrs. Nelson's home, 910 South Main street, was scene of the hospitality, which took place in a setting of blue and white appointments. Tied with white ribbons, white crepe paper wedding bells centering each table to be ready to ring out the nuptial chimes. Tall white tapers and small wedding bell favors furthered the chosen theme.

Following the serving of salad, dainty sandwiches and coffee, the many interesting-looking packages were placed before Miss Barrios. Other events of the evening were preceded by a session of hearts, with prizes won by Mrs. William Brenbarger and Mrs. Charles Miller, who scored high and low.

Guests of the two hostesses were Mesdames Mike Michaels, Charles Miller, Charles Webb, Sophia Rice, Santa Ana; Mrs. William Brenbarger, Bell, Mrs. Mel Rogers, Walnut Park; Mrs. Henry Felix, Mrs. Hortense Clark, Los Angeles; Mrs. Frank Hill, Long Beach; with Miss Toni Barrios and her mother, Mrs. Toni Barrios.

Hostess Receives Anaheim P.E.O. Group

As hostess Wednesday to her sister members of Anaheim's Chapter BP, P.E.O., Mrs. E. N. Owen planned a pleasant luncheon at Daringer's as an introduction to the afternoon's hospitality in her home, 802 North Artesia street.

Roses in creamy tones just touched with pink, gave a charming effect to the tables where guests found places for the luncheon menu. They were no less lovely though, than the garden flowers with which the garden decorated her home for the subsequent meeting. For program, members discussed the recent state convocation in Los Angeles, following formal reports offered by chapter delegates.

Mrs. Owen's guests included Miss Winifred Melrose, Mesdames H. M. Adams, Homer G. Ames, Celia Bonney, J. S. Cox, W. D. Grafton, T. B. Hargus, Nellie Harpster, T. Lumsdon, C. H. Mann, K. G. Parks, Dora Pearson, H. M. Skewis, J. L. Van Der Veer, L. C. Vincent, J. S. Ward, R. B. Young and Dr. Harriette Bigham, chapter members, and Mrs. Dent, a guest.

Engaged Young People Are Honor Guests At Dinner Party

Bidding an intimate group of friends to dine with them Wednesday night, Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Johnson, 803 North Broadway, paid special compliment to Mr. Johnson's niece, Miss Shirley Haynes of Orange, and her fiancé, Glen Allen, also of the neighboring city.

Because the marriage of the young people will be an event of the near future, Mrs. Johnson arranged her table in an all-white design, using graceful blossoms sprayed with gypsophila for her flower centerpiece. Garden flowers placed artistically about the home included some brought from Corona by Mrs. Clarence Wilson, a sister of the bride-elect.

Places were indicated for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, their honor guests, Miss Haynes and Mr. Allen; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haynes, parents of the prospective bride; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilson of Corona, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson of Orange, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shugart of this city.

E-dge was played informally during the after-dinner hours.

Bridge Club Enjoys Barbecued Steaks

Steaks barbecued on the outdoor grill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde M. Deardorff, South McClay street, were enjoyed by bridge club members on a recent occasion when they were entertained at dinner.

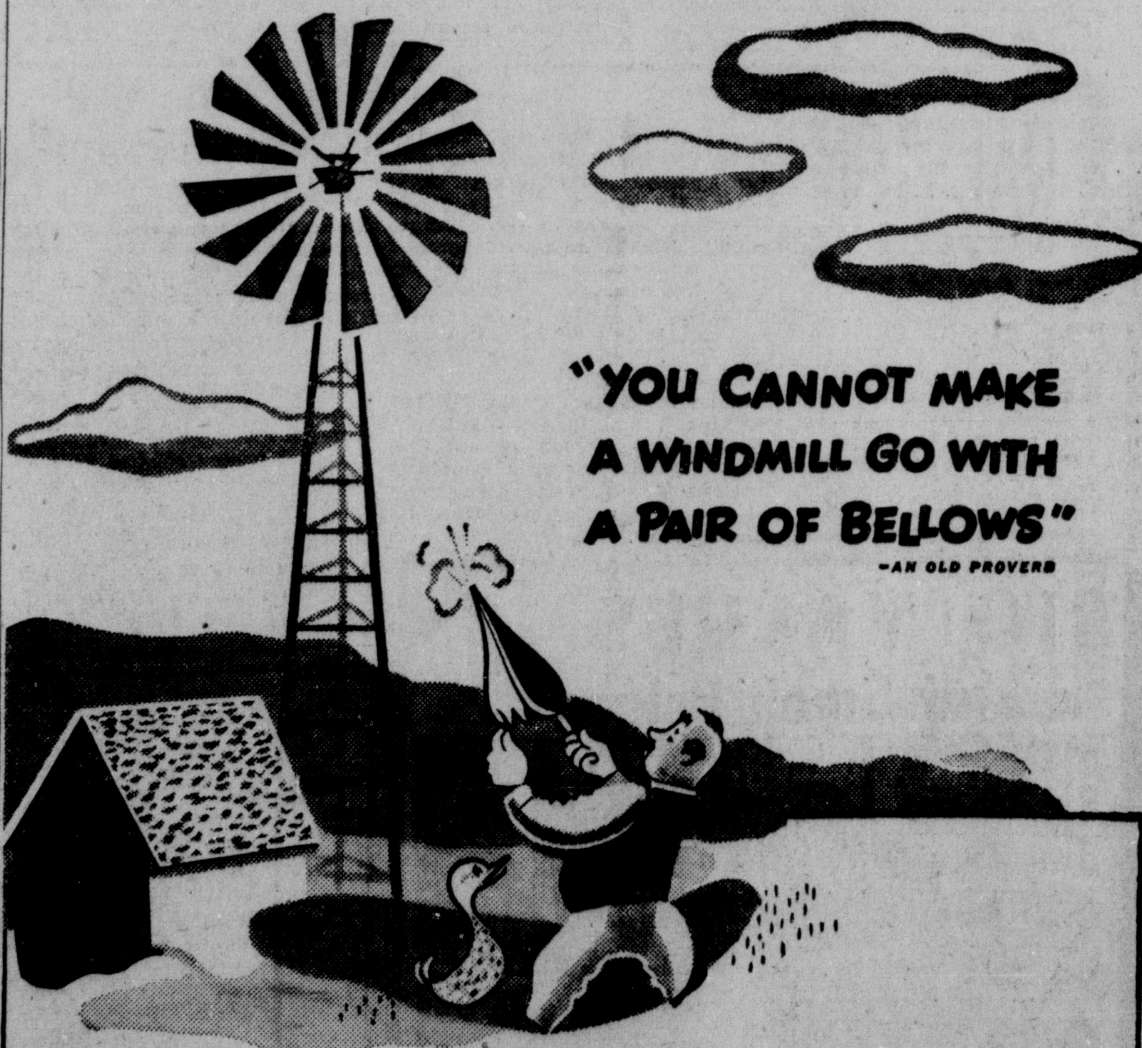

Pictures of the Orange parade, and of other events photographed by the Deardorffs with their new motion picture camera, were screened early in the evening. Bridge play yielded prizes for Mr. and Mrs. John Gould and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McKay, who scored high and low. Each of the feminine guests received a Mother's day gift from the hostess.

Present with Deardorffs were guests, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dierker, substituting for the Turner Meltons of Costa Mesa; with members including Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wolven, Mr. and Mrs. John Gould, this city; Mr. and Mrs. William Adams, Newport Beach; Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McKay, Pomona.

Farewell Event Marks 77th Birthday

Serving as a celebration of the 77th birthday anniversary of George K. Bingham, as well as a farewell courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Bingham was a little dinner given Wednesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beswick were hosts in their home in Tustin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bingham expect to leave today for their former home city of Santa Cruz, where they will reside on a ranch with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Young, who went north a few weeks ago. Mr. Bingham, who taught in Laguna Beach schools for several years, has lived in Tustin since 1932.

Seated at the dinner table with the Bingham and Mr. and Mrs. Beswick were Mr. and Mrs. Elton Holmes. A birthday cake was a feature of the dessert course. White roses completed the attractive setting.

Martha Washington

It was a pleasant affair for which Martha Washington club members assembled Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Mamie Zimmerman, 210 South Sycamore street. Blue larkspur and yellow columbine centered the luncheon table.

Present with the hostess were Mesdames Elizabeth Jernigan, Jennie Prevost, Stella Henderson, Inez Baker, Millie West, Florence Summerville, Bess McDonald and Mae Curtis.

Carpenters' Auxiliary

Plans for a pinocle party which Carpenters Auxiliary members will give for their husbands Friday evening, May 20 were made this week when the auxiliary met in Labor temple. Mrs. Fern Benner, president, and all officers were in their stations.

The party for husbands will take place at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Frank Boland, 1108 Kilson Drive, with Mrs. Edward Crabtree as co-hostess with Mrs. Boland. Following this week's business meeting, the group went to Story's for refreshments.

New Home Enjoyed By Club Guests

Wednesday evening brought the first meeting of C. P. C. club with Mrs. Lurline Clayton, since she moved to her present attractive home at 712 South Garnsey street, so all members enjoyed seeing the home and its convenient features. Mrs. Clayton had planned Chinese checkers as diversion, and prizes were won by Lena Hanson and Mary Mercurio. The serving of refreshments brought the evening to a close. Cecil Wilson, husband of one of the club members joined the group for this pleasant interval. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Mae Conzelmann, 515 East Chestnut street, with Mrs. Gladys Burroughs as co-hostess.

Mrs. Clayton's guests included Mesdames Lena Hanson, Gladys Burroughs, Mary Mercurio, Frances Wilson, Ada Sims and Elberta Potter.

The fans used to defrost the windshield are also helpful in keeping the air circulating inside the car.

Mixing Bowl

BY ANN MEREDITH

If you are slim enough to wear the current bolero and sash in contrasting color you'll be interested in what a clever girl did when she had the bolero, but no sash. The bolero and skirt were in dark blue, the blouse in cream. To sash her slim waist, she took a hank of apple-green yarn and rewound it to make a length sufficient to go around her waist, into a half-tie, the ends falling twelve and eighteen inches deep, after tying. Believe me, I wasn't the only woman on the street who turned to have a second look at this clever idea!

Afterwards, I was thinking, how good looking such a sash would be if made of raw silk yarn in some luscious color. I think I'd wind it to make the proper length. (It would go into an elongated hank) then before cutting, stay the waist-line measure with inch-wide ribbon on the inner side at 10-inch intervals the yarn caught in bunches of six or eight threads, against the ribbon. Then cut the hank at one end, and presto, your lovely sash would be all set to go and stay put, whenever you wanted it. Keep such sashes on a hanger, not in a drawer.

After reading this fashion note about slim waists and lovely sashes, go and take a look at yours. Does it go 'round and 'round? It needn't, you know. One of the first places to show loss of weight is the waist-line, when you are dieting with our Safe and Sane diet. Why? Because, its perfect combination of foods eliminate fermentative gases. Write for the diet to-day and please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. There is no charge for the diet.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Banana Whip

3 ripe bananas
6 tablespoons powdered sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Pinch of salt
1-2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup whipping cream
Crushed macaroons
Banana slices for lining cups.
Crush and scald banana pulp with sugar and lemon juice. Cool and fold into the stiffly whipped egg white for a little less than half of the cream.

Baked Deviled Crab
1 cup fairly thick cream sauce
1-2 pound flaked crab meat
Dry mustard and cayenne added to sauce until it is quite nippy and hot.
Salt and pepper
1 medium sized onion and 1 small green pepper, chopped fine and sauteed in butter before mixing with crab.

Thin lemon slices
Buttered bread crumbs
Grated Parmesan cheese
Mix the well seasoned sauce with crab. Divide it between four or five buttered baking shells, put 2 paper-thin slices of lemon on top of each shell, cover lightly with crumbs, then with cheese and bits of butter. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven.

When crab is not available, fresh or canned, try shrimp, or any lean white fish, boiled and finely flaked. Halibut or rock cod look and taste much like crab when done in this fashion.

Bridgettes Entertain At Dinner Party

Bridgettes honored their husbands Wednesday night at a party in the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Davison on French street. Dinner served at tables centered with Cecil Brunner roses, preceded card play.

Winning prizes were Mrs. Ernest Ashland and George Lippincott, who scored high; Mrs. Lippincott and Ralph Mitchell, low. G. F. Ludlow received floating award.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Crouse were guests sharing the event with Bridgettes and their husbands, including Dr. and Mrs. Davison, Messrs. and Mesdames George Lippincott, Edward Oppen, Don Murphy, C. E. Hayes, G. F. Ludlow, Everett Cornet, Ralph Mitchell, Edwin C. Childs, John Turtan, Ernest Ashland and Mrs. Roy Gowdy.

Recent Bride Honored At Kitchen Shower

Now that Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Carter are ready to begin house-keeping in a home at 826 Orange avenue, following their recent marriage in Yuma, Ariz., the bride will have a cheerful red and white kitchen, many of whose convenient utensils, were gifts to her at a shower of Wednesday night.

Mrs. Dorothea Larsen entertained in her home, 506 South Parton street, where sweet peas and roses gave a festive party setting. Various games were played, and prizes for high scoring were awarded Miss Ruby Larsen and Mrs. O. M. Olson. Refreshments were served before the bride-honoree had the pleasure of opening the prettily wrapped shower packages.

Mrs. Carter was formerly Miss Lyde Swantz. Mr. Carter is employed with the Arrow Laundry company. Guests of Mrs. Larsen in addition to her honoree, Mrs. Carter were the latter's mother, Mrs. E. E. Swantz, Mrs. Howard Swantz the Misses Ruby Larsen, Mabel Larsen, Frances Dunn, Mesdames Anna Olson, O. M. Olson, E. W. Olson, Ann Harms, Edwin Good-oien and Henrietta Wallevad.

Hostesses Plan Party For S.E.A. Club

An enjoyable May party was added to the list of monthly festivities enjoyed by S. E. A. club wives, when Mrs. Milton W. Ball, 1317 Cypress avenue, was joined in hostess duties Wednesday, by Mrs. C. Stuart Lee of Brea, whose husband is club president.

Mrs. Ball's own gardens yielded sweet peas, carnations, amaryllis lilies and roses in profusion, with which to add to the attractive appearance of her home. Some of the beautiful flowers garlanded tables where the hostesses served old-fashioned strawberry short-cake with whipped cream, salted nuts, candy and coffee as a dessert course.

Bridge play of the afternoon was especially successful for Mrs. H. C. Oliver of Fullerton, and Mrs. E. A. B. Smith of this city, who were delighted with gifts of Franciscan pottery. Quite as attractive were the traveling award secured by Mrs. P. G. Kilburn, and a special door prize, won by Mrs. Fayette Blower of Balboa.

At the next meeting on June 8, Mrs. E. A. B. Smith will receive the club in her home, 1150 West Eighth street, where her co-hostess will be Mrs. G. W. Serr of Anaheim. Since S. E. A. club is a county-wide organization among Safeway stores, it is the custom for the social meeting among the wives of members, to group entertaining hostesses from different parts of the county.

WEDDING CARDS OUT

Invitations were out today for what promises to be the city's first wedding of June, that of Miss Frances Georgina Bassett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich W. Bassett, 211 East Tenth street, and Frederick Gifford Schrock, son of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Frederick Schrock, 205 West Twentieth street.

The Rev. Mr. Schrock, pastor of First Congregational church, will read the service uniting his son and Miss Bassett, at 8 o'clock rites in Congregational church, on Wednesday evening, June 1. Mr. and Mrs. Bassett will compliment the young people at a reception for relatives and close friends, to be held at Danigers after the church rites.

You and Your Friends

Among University of California students who have arrived home from Berkeley for the summer are Charles Blanchard, son of Mrs. Sarah F. Blanchard, 826 East Sixth street and Muryl Holman of this city. Bill Greshner is expected to return home Saturday.

T. S. Hunter, 1019 West First street, has returned from Los Angeles Good Samaritan hospital, and is reported making a satisfactory recovery from an operation.

Exhibits of frames of stamps in post office at Santa Ana, Free Appraisals

In the Orange county stamp exhibit last week many persons asked the writer about appraisals of their collections of stamps. This kind of work I will gladly do for anyone if they bring their collection to me. I find more and more that the marketing of stamp collections or accumulations is not a job for a novice or the inexperienced. Before marketing an accurate appraisal should be made of the accumulated material. This appraisal should be done by experts, who, with the knowledge gained by study and experience are in a position to really know values. My appraisal of your collection will give you a fair accurate appraisal based on present market conditions. One lady was in the show exhibit about her collection last week, she had some very valuable stamps from envelopes. Do not do this. One I remember in particular was a 5c Omaha. Off cover it is, I think, $2, while on the cover dated 1898 it catalogues $8, a mere difference of $6 by cutting it off the envelope. Other stamps on covers run the same and greater in value.

Presidential Series

Sixteen years have passed since the last general change in our postage stamp designs, sixteen years of a rather uninspired and monotonous series of stamps in which too much design was crowded for the best artistic results. The only varieties to awaken interest during that period have been the changes from flat to rotary printings, the alterations in perforations, and the semi-occasional more or less experimental varieties.

At last we are to have a complete set of new designs, running the gamut from one cent to five dollars, and with several entirely new denominations by way of variety. Judging from the appearance of the one cent stamp, already issued, the new series will be much plainer in design, and by that token much more attractive. The long series of portraits of our past presidents is not particularly inspiring, in fact, there are some that might better be left in obscurity, but at least the new stamps will have some historical attraction, is not actual beauty of design.

The collector who has not completed his set, singles or blocks as he prefers, of the passing series will be wise to do so without delay. The lower values of the old series will disappear with amazing rapidity from the post office, and few indeed will have any stock of them. Of the commemoratives there are plenty, as every one gets them when they appear, but with that common human tendency to procrastinate most of us have delayed filling in our ordinary postage sets. Once gone, these ordinary stamps are far harder to obtain than any commemorative, especially in blocks. As for plate number blocks, they will be almost non-existent and impossible to secure, once the stamps are obsolete.

A good example of this is found in the flat plate printings of our just-obsolete series, that of 1923 and later. The changes from flat to rotary printings caught most of us napping, and superb blocks of the original printings are nearly non-existent today. It may hurt to spend good money for the despised ordinary postage stamp, but those who do so will never regret it.

P. O. Exhibit

Be sure to see the stamp exhibit in the Santa Ana post office during Air Mail Week, May 15 to 21st. It is free.

Philatelicism Plus

A stamp library so large that it takes a warehouse to hold it has been purchased by Mr. Albert H. Harris, London philatelist.

This collection was originally formed by the late Mr. F. A. Bellamy of Oxford. Mr. Bellamy's aim was to get together the finest philatelic library in the world for presentation to Oxford University. After spending more than £3000 to achieve his aim it was too complete and Oxford was forced to decline the offer of the library because they had no available space large enough to hold it.

The library is said to rank second only to that in the British Museum. It comprises literature on stamps in many languages, amounting to more than 200,000 items. It weighs more than 10 tons.

"I estimate," Mr. Harris said, "that it will take at least 12 months to catalogue and classify this vast accumulation. Meanwhile, I have had to hire a warehouse to keep it."

Mr. Harris, who is editor of the Philatelic Magazine, has already bought a great number of other stamp libraries and may well claim to have what is probably the greatest private collection of literature on stamps and postal history in the world.

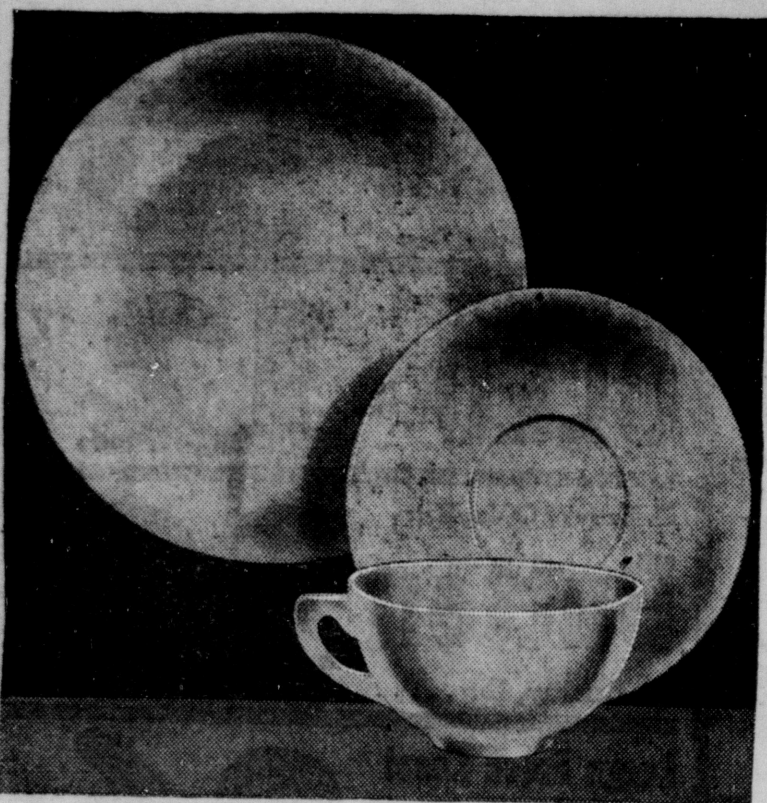

In his spare time Mr. Harris collects stamps.

How To Mount Stamps

The method in which you mount your stamps is very important, and great care should be taken, as it is such an easy matter to damage stamps through mounting them badly.

Stamp News

the mounting of stamps, and it is a very simple matter when they are used to place them in your album, and if, at any future date, you wish to transfer or remove them, this can be done without injuring the stamps.

Watermarks

The majority of stamps have a watermark in the paper on which they are printed, and in most cases it can be seen by either examining the back of the stamp or holding it up to the light. In cases where this method fails, the watermark detector is the only means of making it more discernible.

Place the stamp downwards in the detector tray and drop a few drops of benzine on to the stamp (care being taken to keep this inflammable liquid away from naked lights), when the watermark should immediately show. Use only highly rectified benzine, which can be purchased at any chemist's for a small sum. Photographs of stamps, such as the current Gt. Britain, must not be put in benzine.

Perforations

Perforations play a very important part in philately, as they make vast differences in the value of stamps. The varying gauges of perforations are measured by a scale called a perforation gauge; the indentations of the perforations being fitted to graded rows of dots until one is found which fits correctly. The figure attached to the correct row of dots indicates the gauge of the perforation which has been measured.

As the usual perforation gauge cards are only a matter of a few cents, and can be purchased from any dealer, one should be in every collector's possession.

June 21 at Philadelphia, a new Constitution stamp will be issued. June 27 is the new Delaware stamp at Wilmington, Del.

Gathering of The Clans

Just as winter and spring are the great exhibition and banquet seasons for the festive stamp collector, so is summer the time for those Philately American events, conventions. Beginning with May and closing with October there are at least four such gatherings of major magnitude, two of them somewhat specialist in nature, and two of general character. The American Air Mail society opens the ball with its annual convention in St. Petersburg this month (May), and will doubtless present a splendid exhibition in that favorite resort city of glorious climate.

In August the Society of Philatelic Americans (once known as the Southern Philatelic society) plans to hold its annual get-together in the mid-western village of Chicago, one of the most attractive towns on earth, and with perhaps the most rotten August climate ever invented. This writer recalls with horror the climatic catastrophe mis-named weather that greeted him at a certain A. P. S. convention there back in the world's fair days. Perhaps it has changed by now. Let us devoutly hope so! True, the natives do not seem to mind the weather—they even claim it is excellent, but then, they have to live there and might as well like it. Be that as it may, the convention will be good—and that is why people will be there.

In September the Precancel Stamp Society, that large and vociferous group of postmark collectors that believe they are collecting stamps, will hike themselves to the fragrant western shore of the Mississippi at St. Louis, there to be greeted by the genial Herr Nuss, the present incumbent of the presidential chair (a large, strong chair) and enjoy themselves in their own peculiar ways which, to be frank, have certain inimitable charms of their own. And lastly, in October—they would not dare brave summer there—the legion membership of the American Philatelic society, and the aristocrats of stampdom, will make the long trek to the Deep South, to old New Orleans, city of a thousand charms—and of a million mosquitos. There will they revel in southern cooking, spiced with the Creole variations that has made the city world-renowned. I presume there are many other attractive features to New Orleans, but that one alone would justify a cross-continent journey just to be there for those four wonderful days.

So take your choice, or take them all. You can start in St. Petersburg this month, rest for a couple of months—you'll need to—then take in Chicago in August, St. Louis in September, and New Orleans in October—follow the birds South, as it were. The life and soul of stamp collecting is in its gatherings. Those who are addicts to the convention habit will say Amen!

to George Washington April 25th sales at Washington, D. C. postoffice totaled 532,012 stamps and at the Philatelic Agency 522,476 stamps.

One hundred and twenty-four thousand, thirty seven first day covers were cancelled on April 25 at the Washington post office. It will be of interest to compare this to the $5 Coolidge first day covers later on.

Stamps As an Investment Stamps that are purchased judiciously form a very fine investment over a period of years, as the market always has a tendency to rise, and there is always a worldwide demand for stamps. If carefully purchased, the collection becomes, in time, a very valuable asset, easily realizable in a case of necessity.

Although it is not always possible to realize in a short period the full amount of the original outlay, I would go so far as to say that stamps will realize a larger proportion than any other hobby, and if kept for a few years, should increase to such an extent as to show a substantial profit on the original outlay.

Stamp Exhibit Attendance Of the 600 or more stamp exhibit visitors it was noted that not more than 50 were youngsters in high school or grade schools. The other 550 were older people up to 87 years of age. The exhibit had visitors from New York City, the middle west and Hawaii. Any help on stamps will gladly be given you by seeing C. W. Clarke, 1322 N. Garnsey.

STANDARDS OF DEVELOPMENT
All babies are attractive, and they are all unusually bright to their fathers and mothers. "He is the smartest little thing," says mother enthusiastically. "He reaches for the leg of the chair and pulls himself up and takes the Teddy Bear off the seat. Imagine that."

Yes, he is smart, of course he is. But is this thing that he does unusual in a child of eighteen months? The answer is, No, it is not unusual. It is what the child could be expected to do.

A baby boy, ten months old, has not yet begun to talk. His sister could say several words at that age. Is the boy backward? Again the answer is, No. Little boys are often slower than little girls in talking. Most children begin to say words about the end of the first year, but it takes an entire year before they string words in phrases and short sentences. Don't be alarmed if your child is not talking clearly when two years of age. If he says no word at all, if he makes no effort to talk, then consult your physician. But remember, children vary in development. Some are faster than others. If your child is thriving, eating, playing, if he is showing interest in what is going on, give him time and he will arrive.

Some children begin to walk by the time they are one year old but I have known perfectly healthy, highly intelligent children who have not walked until after the second year. Of course these children were exceptions, but the exceptions tell us not to worry but to wait in patience.

Don't force a child to sit up or stand or walk. Give him a chance to help himself and he will. Don't run in fear and pick him up when he falls. He is learning. Look the other way, encourage him by saying, "Upsie, John. Try again." Let him roll over and get back on his feet without your help. You will know by the quality of his cry whether he is really hurt, whether he needs help and comfort.

Teeth begin coming in at the age of six months, or nine months or maybe later. We watch for signs of teeth at six months, but we are not surprised if they don't show until the ninth month. When no teeth appear at the end of the year take the child to the expert baby doctor.

When the baby is born there is a soft place in his skull where the bones have not yet grown together. They will in time, usually by the end of the first year. They should be closed by the end of eighteen months. If not, it is time to call the physician in charge of the child.

There are charts that set forth the proper weight and height for babies. These charts are for the imaginary, normal child. They give you a general idea of what to expect. If your baby's weight varies from that on the chart don't worry until you have decided about the characteristics of your own child. Once I was very troubled because a child in my school was so tiny and so light. He was much smaller and much lighter than the charts called for. Then I saw his father and his mother. They were no bigger than an eight-year-old boy. I knew that the child was right for him. That's why I say study the characteristics of your own child. Do not measure him by any other child in the family or the neighborhood. Children come by ones. Charts and tests are helpful, but only in a general way. They give you a hint. Your own child, as he is, gives you the true story. Study him. His way is right for him.

DRIVE CAREFULLY —SAVE A LIFE—

MISSION DAMAGES

The Japanese government has just received another itemized bill for damages. It is presented by the Southern Methodist Church for ruined mission properties in China. Twenty-four buildings of this property are said to be in ashes and the rest damaged to some extent. The estimated loss is close to $500,000.

This is the first official damage claim made by a church missions board. Other denominations are considering similar action.

Here is a call for restitution which the Japanese probably can not expect. War is ruthless and destructive of everything in its path, property as well as human life. If war is ever justified, such destruction also must be justified. The Chinese, fighting back in defense of their own land, doubtless have caused much destruction on their part. These damage claims against Japan by a church group therefore do more than ask for justice to the church. They serve also as direct accusations of aggression and put full blame for their distress on the aggressor government.

ONE BIG RACE

"I believe that, wherever possible, school teachers should have the same nationality of racial background as the children they teach," says a school official in a midwestern metropolis.

Thus in a Mexican neighborhood, such as we have in Santa Ana, he would have teachers of Mexican descent; in Japanese districts, Japanese teachers; in Jewish districts, Jewish teachers, and so on. A teacher from the same racial group will understand the children better, he contends, and can be more of an inspiration to them. It is an incentive for the boys and girls when they see how successful a person with the same start in life as theirs can become.

There is something in that view; but is it best on the whole, and in the long run, to have teachers and pupils racially alike? Many will doubt it.

Nowadays there is too much racial feeling in the world. Isn't it better for a while to forget race in the educational process of making Americans, and to remember that people are people, all members of one big group—the human race?

Doesn't the "melting pot" work better when teachers and pupils are of different origin, all giving and receiving and learning to get along with each other harmoniously?

TOURIST CAMP SAFETY

Although touring is now a year-round practice, there still is a vacation season during which travel by private automobile and commercial vehicles reaches its greatest volume. That season is at hand, and thousands of American families are getting ready to set forth in the old bus to points near and far.

The development of such travel has brought with it not only fine highways for speed, but innumerable provisions for sheltering the gasoline wanderers at night. Families have set aside house rooms for tourists, farmers have put up tourist cabins in orchards or along the highway, communities have opened tourist camps. In many places these facilities are strictly regulated, with proper provision for cleanliness, safe water supply, sanitation, and so on. In many others these important matters are neglected and the places become public menaces.

Here is something about which every health department should be actively busy right now. The individual traveler can contribute to the creation of decent conditions everywhere by refusing to stop at any camp or resort until he is certain of its water supplies, drainage and cleanliness. Carefulness in such details will interfere in no way with a happy vacation, but will help the vacationer avoid perils that would completely spoil his holiday.

BIBLE REVISION

A group of distinguished theologians has begun work on a new revision of the Bible to give "an official version embodying the best results of modern scholarship." This work is undertaken by the International Council of Religious Education and is expected to take five years. It is the first revision since publication of the American Standard version in 1901.

Dr. William A. Irwin of the University of Chicago, one of the 12 scholars engaged in the work, explains that present-day knowledge of the Hebrew and Greek languages "enables us to understand more truly the thought of original writers." The revisers hope to put that thought into words which readers can understand better than they do some of the "obscure if not unintelligible" words and phrases of the King James version.

"When the King James version was produced," says Dr. Irwin, "it was a great achievement of Biblical scholarship, and it continues one of the literary treasures of our language, coming as it does from the age of Shakespeare and Milton."

The literary treasure will remain, unharmed by any number of revisions aimed at modern clarity. New versions are necessary and useful, but until one is written which surpasses the King James Bible in literary beauty and value, they will be merely supplementary and clarifying texts.

The strangest thing about autocratic countries is that the people seem so proud of their slavery.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON
World Copyright 1938
By King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—No announcements are being handed out about this, but the good old U.S. government is up to its ankles in the real estate business and may eventually be up to its neck. A careful survey of obscure or unpublished official figures shows:

Home Owners Loan Corporation authorized seizure of 141,543 houses and properties valued at $551,200,630 up to last March 31; is acquiring more now at the rate of about 5000 a month; has sold about 9271; is renting many of the others at a rental income of about $1,500,000 a month; total defaults are around 10 per cent of operations.

Farm credit administration was struck with 9969 farms valued at $36,822,630 the same date; also with 4421 second mortgages on farms valued at $16,816,491 defaults are running about 15 per cent of operations and another 30 per cent have been readjusted from time to time to ward off foreclosure.

Federal housing administration (with the best record) was holding 137 properties valued at $518,299 the same date, expects defaults to increase.

Thus with around 142,000 town properties and about 10,000 farms and more coming in all the time, Uncle Sam stands a good chance of becoming the biggest private landlord in the world.

Two magazine articles are about to toast Son James—and not with a glassful. They will not be within 30 days and at least one of them is supposed to be a red hot.

The news has seeped around inside and raised a discussion whether it is politically ethical to hold members of a Presidential family up to the white heat of political tests.

Consensus of press opinion here seems to be that it all depends on the family. That is, the individual member himself or herself, gives the answer by withdrawing from or invading the political field as he chooses. Under this reasoning, immunity would apply to some members of the present White House family, but not to the secretarial-son, who incidentally has received from the Blackfoot Indians the title of "Eagle Child" and is now known in congressional circles as "L. Aiglon."

Mark Wilcox, back from the Florida primary war, beaten, bleeding but only slightly bowed, was walking through a hotel lobby the other night when he espied Chairman Jim Farley of the D.N.C.

Wilcox walked up to Jim, extended his hand, said: "Jim I want to congratulate you on the complete job you did on me. I always have admired your ability. But since the Florida primary my admiration has increased 100 per cent."

Jim flushed, hesitated as if caught between the frying pan of admitting participation and the fire of denying the complaint, seized both pan and fire boldly, and answered:

"Thank you Mark. Butshaw. I didn't do anything."

Three obscure resolutions or price importance to business have been quietly pushed up to the last stage of senate consideration. One gives the LaFollette Civil Liberties committee $60,000 more. Chairman Bob LaFollette wants $20,000 to clean up pending matters, including the National Association of Manufacturers, Bethlehem, Republic, and Youngstown Steel. With the other $40,000 he plans to travel through the country this summer, probably starting with Jersey City and Mayor Hague. Some senators fear he may invade their districts during the campaign and plan to cut his allowance, but he probably will get about $35,000.

No. 2 is the Bailey resolution to investigate prices, costs, production, etc., in commerce for $25,000. It probably will be blocked because Mr. R. wants $500,000 for a similar inquiry.

No. 3 is the Vandenberg $30,000 inquiry into existing profit sharing systems. It stands a 50-50 chance of adoption.

The President's first press conference upon his return will make good reading when it is made public a few years hence.

At the outset Mr. R. was asked if he would comment on the Florida elections. He pondered a moment, said he had a Latin phrase in mind, but had better use the American translation: "The thing speaks for itself." Up piped Earl Godwin sharp commentator of the Washington Times, who, mindful of the charges of PWA money spending, said: "I thought for a moment you were going to say 'Caveat Emptor' (let the buyer beware)."

Asked about amending the neutrality act, the President replied with a noticeable sense of humor: "Ask the state department."

Questioned about Mayor Hague's contest with the leftwingers, he deftly ducked by passing the questions on to General Farley and "the local police."

Editor Register: In your column Sharing the Comforts of Life you refer to the profits of the employer as being tools for the workers. Did you ever know of a case where the workers piled up too much of these profits or tools as you call them? A number of years ago a gentleman came into a little town back in the middle west and started a zinc smelter. The workers donated their help in getting the smelter ready to operate. The city gave him free gas and free water, also a building site of 40 acres on which to build the smelter.

When the smelter was completed the workers were placed on the payroll at an average wage of $1.50 per day, the little town has always depended on its farming community and its people were prosperous and happy. It had grown from a trading post during the Civil war to where it now had 5000 people. After the smelter came the whole thing changed, the people voted bonds to pave the streets and new cement sidewalks replaced the ones made of boards. A fellow came in from the east and built a street car line which extended south to Elm Creek bridge about a mile out of town, then back and young to the depot.

Down men deserted the farm to work at the smelter and farming soon began to lag as the farmers were now turning their attention to other things. Some of them bought lots in town and built small cottages on them and either sold or rented them to the men who worked in the smelter.

This went on for a number of years until the man who owned the smelter became a multimillionaire, he then decided to retire, so he laid off all his help, the men whose labor was responsible for his success. He sold the smelter to a junk man who loaded the iron into freight cars and shipped it to a foundry back east. The street car

JOHNSON SAYS

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—It is remarkable how well Southern business holds up in this depression in comparison with the Northern industrial areas. Department stores here in Charlotte show only about 6 to 8 per cent decline as compared with this time last year when business was good everywhere. The feeling is much better in towns than in Northern cities.

But there are Indian signs of trouble. Agricultural prosperity is waning. In this particular city the recession in the cotton textile industry is beginning to bite. In this hotel is a big delegation of the Hosiery Workers Union. They seem amply supplied with funds and are clearly determined to unionize the Southern mills. The South is afraid of this for the same reason it fears a cast-iron federal wages-and-hours bill. Union success will depend largely on union wisdom in handling one of the most serious problems of the South—the necessity for wage differentials permitting lower pay as compared with Northern industry.

The Southern industrial structure is not entirely dependent on these differentials but it is so largely so that any sudden and violent attempt to put both regions on a rigid equality in wage rates would cause explosions which cannot now be clearly foreseen.

Through the South there have been many cases of abuses due not so much to Southern employers as to small Northern establishments. Many have emigrated to the South and set up shop solely for the purpose of exploiting cheap labor. They then use the lower costs of their product to compete in the North. They thus give Northern competing employers the unhappy alternative of getting out of business, moving South themselves, or cutting their own labor rates.

That is a dangerous tendency which ought to be checked and will be checked. But whatever action is taken to cut out that abuse, cannot be extended to smashing the whole economic pattern of the South, which would happen upon the application of any inflexible equality whether by federal law or union activity.

As someone had recently pointed out, the available wealth from which wages can be paid is from 10 to 40 times greater in the Northern industrial States than in the South.

The whole structure and hence the cost as well as the standard of living is on a poorer level. It would not, as some argue, be immediately lifted for all if the wage structure were jacked up by federal law, because the living of so large a percentage of all comes from agriculture. Neither by statute nor by any union activity is there any prospect for this segment being lifted. Markedly higher wage rates in only those industries, "in or affecting interstate commerce," would simply upset the existing balance and close down the small amount of slowly advancing Southern industrial enterprise.

The relative poverty of this section is a heritage of old misfortune. The Civil War was one. Another was the gutting of Southern wealth and enterprise in the terrible 20 years of Reconstruction when all the States were being treated—as the unspeakable Thaddeus Stevens insisted—"as conquered provinces." Perhaps as bad as any of these bad influences was the automatic exploitation which the tariff wrought for generations. It simply worked to subsidize increasingly wealthy Northern industries at the expense of an increasingly impoverished South.

A natural result of this relative impoverishment was relatively lower wages. Some of the South has completely recovered, but most of it has not. This territorial balance must be cured. It is slowly being cured. But we can't expect to cure overnight a condition created by the play of powerful economic forces over more than half a century.

HERE AND THERE

The average stewardess of the airlines not only is a trained nurse, but she is also trained in the theory of instrumental flying, and has a working knowledge of weather.

The British Royal Flying Corps has recently purchased Browning .50 caliber airplane machine guns because there was no satisfactory heavy machine gun manufactured anywhere in Europe of that power.

Such items as these are the ones to consider. Current news on a particular day may be "good." Much more important are the trends just indicated. How we handle the problems they raise will determine whether the front page news of the future will be good or bad.

tracks also were taken up and sold for junk. The little town never did recover from the shock. I was back there a few years ago and men I had known who were once full of pep and energy were just sitting around as though waiting for the Angel Gabriel to blow his horn.

You say that the worker should even sacrifice in order to leave the profits of his labor in the hands of the employer. Don't you think it would have been better for everyone concerned if this man had paid a higher wage and by so doing prolonged the time of his retirement?

Just a word to my fellow citizens. The writer isn't the Charles E. Morris who has lived in Orange County for 40 years. He is the one who has lived here only 30 years.

PROPOSED MINIMUM WAGE LAW

We discussed recently the limiting of hours in the proposed minimum wage and hour bill. The bill before Congress would also establish a minimum wage. This belief is very popular.

The American Institute of Public Opinion has taken eight different national surveys on this subject and all of them were largely in favor of the minimum wage. The last one showed 59 per cent in favor of a minimum wage.

An Old Attempt

This idea that wages can be raised by law is very, very old. It has been tried many times and always has failed. It fails because it is contrary to human nature. The law in reality eliminates the very fundamental principle on which all labor is hired.

No employer cares how much an employee gets per hour, per week, or per month. The only thing that any intelligent employer is interested in is how much is the unit cost of the employee. He does not care whether the employee gets 10 cents an hour, or $10 an hour. It is the cost per unit in which he is interested.

The minimum wage law makes no attempt to make a minimum wage for a given piece of work. If the hourly wage is so high that the slow and inefficient worker cannot produce enough so that his piece, or unit cost, is as low as a fast worker can produce, then the slow worker has no job. Then, when the slow worker has no job, he has to be supported by the fast worker, so it lowers the standard of living of all workers.

Everyone knows that workers are worth from nothing on up to almost any price. And when arbitrary wages are established, slow workers will have no work.

Let us give one example. If the minimum wage is 40 cents an hour, or $3.20 a day, and a fast orange picker can pick 50 boxes a day and get 10 cents a box, or $5, then a slow orange picker, who could pick only 25 boxes a day, if the minimum wage were $3.20 a day, would not be permitted to work picking oranges. Then this man, if he were not permitted to work for someone else, would either have to work for himself and manage his own affairs, or be supported by the government.

It certainly is most discriminatory, unfair, unethical, immoral to propose a law that discriminates and makes it difficult for slow and inefficient people to get jobs.

What the world now is crying for is for some employer who can use the talents of the slow and inefficient worker and add to the wealth of the world by so doing. Now we are attempting to make a law that will make it impossible for any man to do exactly what society wants and needs done.

Some 90 years ago, the first president of the French Republic, Adolphe Thiers wrote a great book, a refutation of Communism and Socialism. In discussing the theory that wages can be arbitrary, he makes this statement:

"Who has discovered the means of doubling wages? No one. For this secret is in the hands of God. Hitherto, God has dispensed the happiness sought for by such proceedings only to those countries which are wise and well governed, and which respect the laws of nature and reason."

And anyone who believes that you can raise wages by law and still have jobs for the man who cannot produce enough to pay wages, established by law, simply knows nothing about human nature and never has read history. It will be a very expensive lesson, as shown by all history.

AMERICA TODAY VERSUS YESTERYEARS

We are constantly reading and hearing of the greatness of America—How it has so much of this and that and only a small fraction of the population. The inference is that it is a result of our government as it now stands; that we should not change our laws.

We do not believe that America would be what it is today, if we had always had the Constitution and the laws we now have. We believe America is what it is today because, for a period in the past, America did have, without a doubt, the greatest government of any country in all history. This period was from July 28, 1868 to March 1, 1913, a period of approximately 45 years. On the first date, the Fourteenth Amendment was passed, which guaranteed the citizens protection against state laws that might deprive an individual of his inalienable rights.

The last date was March 1, 1913, when the Sixteenth Amendment was passed which gave Congress the right to disregard the rights of the individual and for the Federal Government to take any part of the fruits of labor that it saw fit to take and give the citizen absolutely nothing in return, excepting the right to go out and do it over again. This took away from the individual his means of adding to the general welfare and the general happiness of the people. It took away from him the right to the pursuit of happiness by adding to the wealth of the world, without limitations or interference.

But since this time, America has been gradually on the decline, as far as personal liberty is concerned. It was the great fruits of this wonderful government we had yesteryears that has brought about the wonderful living standards about which our columnists, demagogues, politicians and political educators keep constantly chattering.

They know we have big production, but they do not realize the cause that brought this about has been gradually stifled and smothered so that we are living off the fruits of production resulting from the liberties under past government rather than from the liberties under the present government.

It is of the utmost importance that we learn as quickly as possible that we must return to this very definite line which separates the inalienable rights of man, over which the government has no right to interfere. It is this freeing of initiative and spontaneity of individual rights to create, that was brought about during this former period, of which we should be proud and to which we should attempt to return.
